THE MAKING OF A NEWS EVENT

(By BILL SMILEY)

Next time somebody in the club or other organization you belong to asks if you'd handle the publicity for some event that's coming up, take my advice and respond with a ringing "NO."

That's the way they always put it: "Handle the publicity." Casual. Nothing to it. You just "handle" it.

Well, I'm sitting here in my underwear trying to write a column, because I've just finished a two-week stint of "handling" the publicity and I'm soaking wet from the waist up.

Why? Because I'm just home after galloping up and down the main street begging merchants to put posters in their windows.

I should have known better. I got my baptism quite a few years ago when I took on the publicity chores for an election campaign. And I've been involved in three elections since, each time emerging in the same condition: wringing wet and swearing "never again."

But the first one was the worst one. I was a lot younger, I'd probably not have come through it without cracking up. My candidate was young, had never run before, and was up against a man who belonged to the large government majority. The latter would have been a shoe-in. But we licked him.

We formed a triumvirate: Ross Whitcher, the candidate, Gordie Hough, campaign manager, and myself, publicity manager.

Ross beat the back roads and wore out three pairs of shoes. Gordie beat every bush in the county raising money. And I beat my brains to the bone writing speeches and news releases and advertisements.

Hardly anybody pays any attention to the platforms of the various parties, so you have to sell the man. And there are only so many ways of saying, "Our guy is better than their guy."

You say your guy has more children than their guy and the former is active in church work. The opposition counters by pointing out their guy's experience and claiming he is vitally interested in crippled children. And so on.

You challenge your opponent, in an ad, to a public debate. He gets free publicity by refusing on the grounds that there is no evidence your guy has anything worth listening to in public. And so on.

Then there are the advertisements. We had ten weeklies and a daily paper involved, plus two radio stations. And we never had enough money. So, every ad had to be small but packed with power. Try this sometime: Try getting across a vital message in a thirty-second commercial.

Oh well, it was sort of fun at the time, and I learned that a man can work 18 hours a day and emerge, if not unscathed, at least alive. As I recall, the only material reward was a crock of Crown Royal. Not because the candidate was a cheap-skate, but because he was up to his ears in bills, after the election.

As I said, I should have known better, at my age, than to "handle the publicity" again. But when I was asked, I responded like an old war horse who has been through the reek and blood of battle, but can't resist it.

It was such a little thing, really. Just the publicity for all Open House at our school, to mark the completion of a new wing, built to the tune of three million. Nothing to it. A no-profit event. Just let the papers know... etc.

Next thing I know, I'm writing ads, churning out thousands of words of copy, trying to con radio and television stations into believing that the "news item" I am phoning in is not paid advertising, composing a letter for 1300 kids to take home to their parents, writing letters of invitation to various dignitaries, arranging printing of posters, and finally distributing these in person.

However, I've managed to totter through once again. The only thing that bothers me is that I enlisted one of my young assistants in the English department into writing radio commercials, and I'm afraid he's hooked. He's been battling out thirty-second commercials with not only elan but gusto. I wouldn't be surprised if he quit teaching English and went into advertising, a fate worse than death.

There's one other unfortunate side effect. My wife and daughter have a wedding coming up. The former is flying in ever-decreasing circles of panic and accuses me of having deserted her during the crisis, because I've spent so much time - you guessed it - "handling the publicity."

Fortunately, Kim is blithely unconcerned about the whole thing. "She constantly remarks, 'Stop worrying, Mom. There's nothing to it', which has the effect of turning the Old Battle-axe a deep shade of violet, while her head whirls with thoughts of invitations and announcements to be printed, the house to get ready, the flowers to be organized, and the casual kid's wedding dress not even thought of, with ten days to go. Not to mention, 'When is the yard going to be cleaned up?' and 'I'll never get that chair back from the upholsterer's in time', and simply, 'I can't face it.'"

Like Kim, I believe the wedding will take place, and it will scarcely rate in the history books with the crossing of the Red Sea.

Individually, we'll give you great service.
Together, we'll give you great prices.

Decisions, decisions. Usually, if you want to pay less for your drug items, you go to a big chain. And forget about friendly, personal service.

And if you want great service, you go to a store that's owned by the man who runs it. But you may pay more. And that's why Guardian Drug stores are so special. Each Guardian store is owned by the pharmacist who runs it.

So he's right there to fuss about friendliness, service, fresh goods and good selection.

But together, over 100 Guardian Drug stores enjoy big volume discounts on drug store products.

Just like any other big chain does.

So at Guardian, you'll find every day prices that are a few cents lower (or a few cents higher) than the lowest "discount" store in town.

And the biggest smiles, too.

There are over 100 Guardian Pharmacists with fresh goods, good selection, low prices, bright stores and big hearts.

Mr. Robert Allan was quite severely hurt when a span of colts which he was driving became frightened by the whiffle trees striking against their heels, and running away threw Mr. Allan out of the wagon with such force as to break a bone in his breast. It is expected Mr. Allan will be around again in a few days.

In 1919 Canadian farmers sold 20,000,000 pounds of wool for $12,000,000. In 1921 the same farmers sold 21,250,000 pounds of wool for $2,975,000. When costs of production are deducted there is some idea of what has happened to buying power.

Bred-to-lay hens for sale, $1.00 per 13 eggs. Enquire at the Review Office. A well selected flock of bred-to-lay hens will lay twice as many eggs in a year, as the same sized flock of hens not selected and not bred-to-lay. 160 bred-to-lay hens will lay 1200 dozen in a year. Bred-to-lay hens lay eggs when eggs are dear. 100 hens not selected and not bred-to-lay will average 600 dozen in a year. Difference in favor of bred-to-lay 600 dozen eggs a year. Labor and cost of care and feed about the same. The difference would be more than met by the higher priced winter eggs. Gain on a hundred hen flock in favor of bred-to-lay, at least $150.00.

Old Men - Young Men are buying the Fine Felt Hats that are procurable at Cross & Co.'s for $4. and $5. They are getting tired of the city nonsense that is necessary to pay $8.00 and $10.00 for a good Felt Hat. Men's Fine Shirts that "Fit". Pretty new stripes, soft cuffs - splendidly cut and made by our most reliable makers. All sizes - all colors - from $1.27 to $1.47. Men who need a sweater or pullover of fine light weight wool in attractive colors and very warm, can get them now ranging in price from $3.25 to $3.75. People requiring Linoleums or Floor Oils this year should buy them now. We were told by a good authority "that they would go higher in the fall." Cross & Co.'s price now is lower than most stores. Shop at the old established firm of Cross & Co., Madoc.

Wm. S. Hart is a popular actor of Western types in real life, according to a report received here from the vicinity of Morrisburg. It appears that a deer presented itself on the property of a farmer residing about two miles east of that village, and, as a result, intense excitement prevailed for a short time. The farmer gave chase to the deer. The latter headed for the St. Lawrence River and promptly endeavored to evade capture. The farmer, so the story goes, secured a boat, and with the aid of a stout rope, lassoed the deer and brought it ashore, taking it later to his farm where it is now held in captivity.

Simple Operation - Douglas, three and a half years old; returned from the barber shop with his hair nicely bobbed. His mother overheard him say to an admiring playmate: "Why, the barber did it just as easy - he just ran the electric iron over my head."

Hastings continued its county forest project at Actinolite, four miles north of Tweed, last week, when on Tuesday close to 20,000 red pines were planted adding to the 60,000 which in previous years had been set out. The county forest plot at Actinolite comprise approximately 250 acres on the west bank of the Skootamatta River, a tributary of the Moira, and will eventually see the entire acreage planted. The forest project was started in 1964 with trees being planted each year since.

William C. Sills, 63 Octavia Street, Belleville, on Saturday observed his 86th birthday. He enjoys good health and is very active for his age. Born at Brockville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan C. Sills, he went to Belleville as a child of three years with his parents. Then the family moved to Madoc at the time of the gold rush excitement about the year 1868. Mr. Sills' father became chief of police here and held this post until his death. Mr. Sills received his education in Madoc.

Mr. Chas. Pigden, who recently purchased property on Russell Street in Madoc Village intends erecting a garage on the property in the near future. The plans call for a large modern building of steel and concrete structure. Mr. Pigden has been in the automobile business at Eldorado for the past twenty-eight years and it is not his intention to dispose of his business there, but to continue to operate it as well as the new one in Madoc.

During recent weeks a farmers' co-operative, known as the Madoc Co-operative Association, has been formed here with Harold Comerford as President, Robert Woods as Vice-President, Percy Gardiner, District Field Supervisor for Eastern Ont., and Mr. J. Healey, of Toronto Central Co-operative Co., have been in the district organizing the local Association and raising funds. Mr. Healey, who is experienced in raising capital for co-operatives, informed the Review that 70 date sixty Madoc Township farmers have subscribed over $8,000.00 or about 25 per cent of the amount needed. A canvass will be made of the nearby townships and while only about 50 per cent of Madoc Township has been covered he is well satisfied with the memberships received and the amount of money raised.

Births - In Belleville General Hospital, on March 27, 1948, to Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Baldwin, a daughter, Dianne Marie.

In Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, on Friday, April 23, 1948, to Mr. and Mrs. George Sequin, (nee Rita Barry), a daughter.

Death - The passing on Monday, April 12th, 1948, of Mrs. John S. Davis, the former Margaret Nickle, has removed one whose life has been a strong influence for good among a wide circle of friends. She was born in Madoc, Ontario, the daughter of the late John and Margaret Nickle, on December 20th, 1863, and graduated from Alport College, Belleville.

Mr. Roscoe Robson, M.P.P., for Hastings-East, informed the Review yesterday that work on the Madoc - Belleville road is progressing favorably and it is expected the work will be completed this summer. Tenders for the bridge at Moira Lake close on May 22nd. The estimated cost for the bridge is $71,490 and the overall estimated cost is $230,000.

An enjoyable time was spent last Friday evening when members of the local Kiwanis Club entertained their ladies at dinner. The meeting was in charge of the President Gregor Murray.

The migration of pickerel to their spawning beds got off to a slow start this Spring owing to the cool weather during the first week of April. The third week saw the fish at their peak here in the Tweed District. Altogether we have had nearly four busy weeks when conservation officers have been on the go day and night, checking on the numerous places where pickerel enter the rivers and streams to spawn. Owing to the low water the pickerel are very vulnerable to poachers, but the latter have paid a price. To date approximately 50 men have been apprehended. Equipment seized has included 4 cars, besides numerous spears and lights.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Prevost of Stoco, were pleasantly surprised by their family as they all gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prevost on Sunday, April 21, to celebrate their 50th anniversary. There are 10 children, 45 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

On Friday evening, April 26th, a miscellaneous shower was held in the home of Mrs. W. Parks, in honour of Miss Margaret Devolin. About twenty friends of the bride-to-be were present. After a program of games and readings, Mrs. Ray Parks read an address.

Births - In St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Thursday, April 4, 1957, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burris, a daughter, Carole Anne, a sister for Kathy and Paul.

In Belleville General Hospital on Thursday, April 25, 1957, to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gabel, a daughter.

At Mrs. Alexander's Nursing Home, on Sunday, April 28, 1957, to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rivers, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMaster Ivanhoe, wish to announce the arrival of a son, on Thursday April 25, 1957, at the Belleville General Hospital. Mother and baby doing well.

Weddings - White and pink streamers and an arch of snapdragons and white mums, intertwining evergreens, formed the setting on Saturday, April 20th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holgate, Eldorado, when their daughter, Mrs. Ruby, became the bride of Floyd Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Blackburn. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. F. Lane of Madoc.

St. Andrew's United Church Marmora, was the setting on Saturday, April 29, at 1:30 p.m. for a lovely double-ring ceremony when Barbara Ann McKelvie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greenville J. McKelvie, became the bride of Robert Douglas Sanderson, of Marmora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sanderson. The latter and F. E. Mollen officiated before a background of Easter lilies and ferns.

DEPT. LANDS & FORESTS RECEIVES NEW NAME

The end of March saw the retirement of the name - Lands and Forests - and signals the emergence of the Ministry of Natural Resources with much broader responsibilities.

Understandably, the passing of lands and forests will be cause for remembrances and recollections. It is important to realize, however, that what is happening is another step in the continuing evolution of the structure of government concerned with the stewardship of natural resources.

Not too long ago, for example, references were made to the Ontario forestry branch, the provincial air service, the crown lands agent, the crown timber agent, the game warden or fish and game overseer. Each represented a separate administrative entity which had its place at some point in time in the natural resources field. Eventually, these various bodies became known as the department of lands and forests.

A brief look back into Canadian history is necessary to fully appreciate the historical significance of the April 1st change. The pursuit of fur bearers was primarily responsible for the exploration of Canada and in turn, the development of our first domestic commerce. This was quickly followed by the cutting of timber for the navies of France or England. From this developed a sizeable timber industry oriented to export markets.

Intertwined with the fur and timber trade was the surveying and disposition of land for the purposes of developing a farming base essential to developing population and necessary food supplies.

In response to the uses of trees, land and wildlife, governments were involved in various matters for purposes of control and collection of revenue and in turn the establishment of a fire fighting organization. Most of the work in these areas took form in the late 19th and throughout the 19th centuries.

Entering this century, governments became concerned with intensifying forest protection, re-establishment of forest cover on farmed-out lands and the improvement of enforcement in the field of game and fish. In 1919, the bulk of these activities were found in the department of lands, forests and mines. The assembling of these functions again recognizes the fundamental interrelationship which exists in the field of natural resources. It also recognizes the extent to which our fish and wildlife resources are vital to the provincial scene. Prior to 1946, these resources were the responsibility of the department of game and fish but since that time have been a function of the department of lands and forests.

The new ministry will efficiently strengthen and broaden services to both residents and non-residents of Ontario in all of the natural resource fields. To accomplish this objective, it will incorporate various programs of the former departments of mines and northern affairs, tourism and information, lands and forests and the department of the environment.

The minister of natural resources has clearly stated that the bringing together of these various fields of responsibility into the new ministry is eminently sensible. It may take some time for everyone to become to know and to be familiar with the new name, but the public can be assured that the name of the game is service in the entire field of natural resources.

It should also be emphasized that existing facilities and services of lands and forests will continue to function as in the past.

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(but not necessarily)

My apologies to Mrs. Florence McCoy and the Madoc Township basketball players and coaches for neglecting to mention that their Junior Girls and Boys won their respective basketball tournaments recently.

Further apologies for the pictures of the teams that didn't turn out because of accidental exposure before developing. Hope to rectify this before next week.

The Ladies' Softball League will be operating again this year with the same four teams - Madoc, Cooper, Foxboro and Springbrook. Same teams but some new faces.

The schedule will begin the first week of July. The brand of softball is improving and there is always plenty of action. So give the team of your choice the support they deserve. You won't be disappointed when it comes to entertaining softball.

Madoc will be playing their home games on Tuesday nights while Cooper has selected Tuesday or Thursday nights as their home nights.

Listening to a post-game interview with one of the Expo pitchers after a recent Expo win, I couldn't help but admire one of the statements from that interview that summed up the Expo's early success - "All the guys on this team are 'pulling' for all the other guys to do for their best." With that kind of philosophy I think the Expos are in for their best season to date.

Pulling together is at least heading in the same direction. One can see the same philosophy in the New York Rangers hockey team. Each trying his best. A never say die attitude; that even if they never win the Stanley Cup should at least gather a cup full of admirers.

Up in North Russell Street Stadium fifty thousand ballplayers of all sorts, sizes and ages take part in a ball game when time and weather is permits. There are no grownups running their games and they appear to be having a "ball". Oh, there appears now and then slight arguments but they generally clear them up themselves.

If you happen to be driving up in this neighbourhood please take it easy because it's very difficult to choose even sides if you only have forty-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine ballplayers.

Last Sunday afternoon while the play-off hockey game was on there was still quite a few ballplayers left in the stadium playing ball. Why, no - Boston was ahead 5-1 and seemed to have the game under control. When it was announced the score was 5-5 with ten minutes left in the game the little ball field emptied like water out of a tap. "There is nothing like 'closeness' to keep a family together".

Wished I'd Said That Department: "People like porcupines are not dangerous unless you rub them the wrong way".

Something I Can't Figure Out Department: "Why I have to pay four dollars for a dog tag just so I can keep my dog chained to a post."

I know the bylaw says so but what is the reasoning behind it. I can see chaining my dog but why should I have to pay four dollars to do so. If I buy a licence for my car it means I can drive it on public highways. This I can understand but a licence for my dog? ? ? How many cats have tags? What about all those goldfish in bowls and aquariums?

Cat and fish - lovers don't interpret this incorrectly. I like cats and fish equally as well but . . .

A Tale Worth Retelling:

Once there was a father who had three sons. One day an accident happened that concerned the father and his three sons. Apparently one of the sons had pushed the father's tool shed into the Topsy River. When the father questioned his three sons as to who did this wicked deed he received a negative answer from each. So he proceeded to tell the famous story of George Washington and the cherry tree. How, when questioned about the cut-down cherry tree, George had admitted that he had cut it down. For his honesty George was praised. After completing this ancient tale he again questioned his three sons as to who pushed the tool shed into the Topsy River. This time the youngest son admitted his guilt. The father at this point became furious and beat his youngest son black and blue with his belt.

Crying with pain the youngest son questioned why he received such a beating when George Washington was praised for his honesty. To this his father replied, "George Washington's father wasn't in the cherry tree."

So as far as disciplinary action is concerned it's not "what" you do that is important but "who" you do it to.

I hope the stories in the last two columns started you thinking about funny and embarrassing things that happened to you in the past. What appeared as a great tragedy in your youth can now be looked upon as very amusing.

Of all the things you worried about last year, what percentage actually happened? That should tell you something.

As it says - "Mostly about something but not necessarily"

CO-OP SAVE TIME and MONEY WITH CO-OP BULK FEED

Madoc Co-Op offers a COMPLETE BULK FEED PROGRAM. Farmers Grain can be sucked from the Granary in the bulk truck. The grain is then taken to the mill for processing and returned either bulk or bag.

Many area farmers have built bins inside the barn.

Third Recreation Dance Successful

The third dance in a series, designed to provide week-end entertainment for the young people of Madoc and area and to help raise funds for Madoc recreation programs, was successfully held last Saturday night in the Madoc Public School. Music for the evening was provided by Benjamin, a local group who are proving more and more popular. This third dance brought the total funds to date to approximately $300, which will be used to support the construction of dressing-room facilities at the ball park, the swimming pool, the arts council and other recreational projects. Difficulty had been encountered in obtaining chaperones for previous dances, partially due, it is understood, to the concern of the young people that Mother and Dad would cramp their style and perhaps some were not just a little surprised to find that there's still "a little left in the old boy yet" and parents are not really the "squares" they have been made out to be. What ever the case, the committee acknowledges the assistance of Mrs. Dorothy Moore, Mrs. Lillian Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Goulash, Mr. and Mrs. Art Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jeffrey and Mrs. Mary Barton for their help at this latest dance. Others who would be interested in occasionally chaperoning a dance are asked to contact T. C. Barton or Jim Watson Jr. Ann may even get her father up to dance yet!

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

The 10th Annual Meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference United Church Women was held in Queen Street Church in Lindsay with an attendance of over 200. The theme of the conference was "Love is the Issue". Mrs. Eaton of Queen's Park spoke of her work on Anglo culture of Citizenship in the multicultural society. The importance of filling out reports was impressed on the ladies with a skit. Dear Betty, a youth-oriented Stewardship event was planned. This year later held in Tabernacle Church, Belleville.

Miss N. Brown and Mrs. J. Goldie presented highlights on a Nation Poverty Consultation. Poverty is controllable if we have the will to do it. A guaranteed income might help. Root causes must be dealt with. Services set up to help poverty are sometimes second rate.

Major McCorkindale of the House of Concord was the dinner guest speaker. Taking as his topic, "Part of the Problem is Part of the Answer or Vice Verse", he told that the House of Concord provides a home for 114 boys, ages 16 to 17, who come from Provincial Courts but not necessarily from broken homes. They are involved in educating these boys for a career. They try to interest them in skills and introduce them to work at Service Stations and Greenhouses in particular. Their greatest problem with the boys is drugs and they do help them to withdraw from these but can only do so when they themselves are ready. The U.C.W. does have a voice that should be heard as we have part of the Answer and not part of the Problem.

Mrs. Marsh of Belleville was in charge of the 10th Anniversary Service. The Peterborough Presbytery presented a humorous skit. The ten years of U.C.W. was commemorated by the lighting of candles by the past presidents, namely, Mrs. F. H. Ferguson, Mrs. R. C. Ellis, Mrs. L. F. Richardson, Miss Verna Neal and Mrs. W. H. Seigel to represent the years of their service. The purpose of the U.C.W. was quoted under Witness, Study, Fellowship and Service. The lighted candle was extended to the new president. The worship in music was very ably conducted by Mr. Q. McKinney of Peterborough.

A study of India was presented by the Oshawa Presbytery. Dr. Service of Lindsay, Chairman of World Missions, who had recently made a tour of India, gave an address. He said that Unity, Hope, Witness and Service are necessary to proclaim Jesus' love in the Church of India. The World Organization of Churches have set themselves up to work in India and Bangladesh. He asked that we stimulate churches to support the relief service to bring them the hope that only we can. Many interesting slides and items of interest from India were shown.

The evening meeting was brought to a close with a worship service by Kingston Presbytery.

The morning session opened with devotions by Mrs. M. C. Fisher of Peterborough. The highlight of the Spiritual Retreat was Rev. Dr. H. Parker, Professor of Old Testament and Hebrew Literature at Queen's Theological College in Kingston, using as his text, "Things are seldom what they seem." There should be faithfulness under all circumstances. There is no immediate reward for those who are faithful. To exercise our faithfulness in Christ, running the race, we must remember four things: keep in condition, lay aside anything that distracts, keep our eyes on Jesus who has already run the race and not to grow weary or faint hearted.

A few hours were spent in Bible Study groups and was followed by the installation of the new officers and the dedication service conducted by Mr. J. Black, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference. The meeting closed with a few remarks from the new president, Mrs. Clayton Thompson, Campbellford. Secretary is Mrs. K. C. Weaver, Stirling and treasurer is Mrs. T. W. Spear, Trenton.

A journey of a thousand miles begins with one step and promises bring responsibilities.

ELDORADO

Miss Dufoe of Belleville spent last week with her sister Mrs. Clarence Stevenson and Mr. Stevenson.

Mr. Bruce Sine of Toronto spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Duffin and Deanne of Burlington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sine were Sunday visitors of his sister at Almonte.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my many friends and relatives for the gifts and visits I received while a patient in the Belleville Hospital.

Special thanks to Dr. Derry and Dr. Peter Scott. William Norman 18-1p

I would like to thank my family and friends who remembered me while I was in Belleville General Hospital. A special thanks to Dr. Derry, Dr. Peter Scott and nurses on 5th level for their excellent care. Nellie Irwin 18-1p

In the midst of our sorrow, we, the family of the late Norman Griffin, wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many neighbours, friends and relatives for cards, floral tributes, donations to the Heart Fund, and many acts of kindness shown at our home.

Special thanks to the MacKenzie Funeral Home, Reverend Thompson, L.O.L. No. 160 and R.E.P. No. 167.

CARD OF THANKS

Bill and Beulah Boush and family would like to express their sincere appreciation to friends and neighbours for the many acts of kindness they received during their bereavement in the loss of William Rhodes. 18-1p

IN MEMORIAM

KEMP — In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, John Charles Kemp, who passed away May 10, 1968. Although we smile and make no fuss

No one misses him more than us. And when old times we oft recall

That's when we miss him most of all. Sadly missed by sister Nell, nieces Donna, Judy and family. 18-1p

MORRISON — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Charles Morrison who passed away May 4, 1970.

Two years have passed since that sad day. When the one we loved was called away.

God took him home - it was his will. Within our hearts he liveth still. Ever remembered by Bruce, Doug, Myrtle and families. 18-1p

MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duffin announce the marriage of their daughter Beverly Ann of Vancouver, B.C. to Mr. Detlef Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kaiser of Stuttgart, Germany, on the evening of April 28th in Trinity United Church, Madoc.

BOWLING

Playoff trophies presented were: Ladies High Single, Ruth Holmes, 298; High Pinfall, Velma Reid, 1165; Men's High Single, Don Lowry, 294; High Pinfall, Joe Foley, 1178.

Clarence Farrow presented a gift to Hilda McGowan as a token of appreciation for all the time she spent preparing the evening's program and ordering and picking up the trophies, after which Hilda McGowan presented Leland Richardson with a lovely wall plaque for all he has done for the league as president.

During the evening, a series of draws were held, and won as follows: Gordon Holmes, a dish for a discriminating man, a Sweet Marie Chocolate Bar; Mary Jane Henderson, what every girl desires, a date; Hilda Anderson, first aid kit, a Life Saver; Mrs. Don Parks, an English Bag, a tea bag; Leland Richardson, what a man knows about a woman, writing pad (nothing).

O.P.P. REPORT

During the week of April 21st to April 28th, 1972, officers of Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police investigated two motor vehicle accidents: one of property damage and one of personal injury with three persons taken to hospital.

There were 32 charges laid under the Highway Traffic Act.

There was one request for assistance with six reports of thefts and eight reports of breaking and entering. There was one disturbance and 38 other general occurrences.

Due to the fact that Judge R. C. Jackson of Belleville had taken ill, all the court cases set for the 27th of April were adjourned to future dates.

Drivers! When you see a child riding a bike on the street, don't blow your horn, unless it's absolutely necessary.

A sudden blast of a car horn can cause a young cyclist to panic, and he or she may swerve right into your car's path. Remember, when kids are around on bikes, slow down, and don't scare them with your horn. Sound it only when necessary - and then make it a couple of warning beeps - NOT A BLAST.

Smallpox Vaccination Re-instituted

Owing to the recent epidemiological developments, the Officials of the Ministry of Health of Ontario now advise that the usual Programmes of Smallpox Vaccination of Children be re-instituted.

Accordingly, we shall offer the Vaccine to the children of approximately 13 months of age in our Clinics, and in the Fall of 1972 offer re-vaccination in the Schools.

The Vaccination of the travellers will be carried out as required by the International and Canadian Regulations which vary from time to time.

C. R. Lenk, M. D., Medical Officer of Health, Hastings & Prince Edward Counties Health Unit.

Here's why you can grow calves fast on Purina Nursing Chow.

Purina Nursing Chow is Milk-Plus.

You can be sure your calves get the right start with Purina Nursing Chow. It's milk with added vitamins, proteins and minerals. Nursing Chow is better than milk for your calves because it's fortified with antibiotics to help prevent diseases like scours and pneumonia.

These extras are part of Nursing Chow's special formulation to grow the strong bones and healthy bodies every dairyman likes to see.

To see for yourself how easy and economical it is to raise fine healthy calves with Purina Nursing Chow, order some from your local Purina Dealer.

Give your next calf the right start with Purina Nursing Chow.

Here's a list to help you figure cost per serving of various foods. Keep it in your handbook for use when food shopping. If your family's appetites are average, you can count on:

- 3 to 4 servings from 1 lb. of most fresh fruit.
- 3 to 4 servings from 1 lb. of potatoes and most other vegetables.
- 4 to 5 servings from a 30-oz. can of fruit or vegetable juice.
- 22 to 24 slices from a 24-slice loaf of bread.
- 12 to 16 servings from 1 lb. dry cereal.
- 4 to 5 servings from 1 lb. boneless meat, filled fish.
- 1 to 2 servings from 1 lb. meat with much bone and gristle.
- 6 servings from 4 to 5 lb. chicken.
- 3 to 4 servings from 1 lb. of cottage cheese.
- 3 to 4 servings from 1 lb. of ground beef.
- 10 to 12 servings from 1 lb. of prunes, 40 to 50 size 50 eight-ounce cups from 1 lb. coffee.
- 200 eight-ounce cups from 1 lb. tea.

WEDDING BELLS and SAD DADS

By BILL SMILEY

Roughly one million people read this column. And they read it roughly, because that's the way it is written.

Many of the old faithfuls have read the column since the time my daughter first burped and covered the old man's shirt with baby-spew.

And they have associated, and laughed and cried as I described the peculiar creature that I produced. With a little help from my wife, of course.

I feel it only fair to the old faithfuls to keep them up to date. Anyone who is not interested can turn to Ann Landers or Billy Graham or somebody who writes about something important.

Kim is getting married. Normally, this is an occasion of great hilarity, geniality, joviality, and sometimes even spirituality.

Personally, I think she's out of her mind. But this, at least, is normal among parents. So everything is proceeding normally.

Today, I came home and found my wife surrounded by income tax forms and samples for material to cover one of our chairs. Normally, I wouldn't be surprised by this. It's a typical. But it's not exactly the pre-wedding hysteria one might expect.

And where is Kim, with a wedding about ten days away? She's in the city with her boyfriend, looking for a second-hand van in which they can eat and sleep and have their being during the summer. And they have my car. Every time the phone rings, I flinch, expecting to hear a police officer telling me they've cracked up my beautiful 1967 Dodge.

And tomorrow night there's a shower for her, and the next day a dental appointment, and next week an appointment in the city about a job, and another dental appointment, and a hair-dresser's appointment. And she hasn't even bought her wedding dress yet.

She's not at all worried about her "going-away" outfit. She assured her mother, "Don't worry, Mom; I'll be going away in my jeans."

Well, I'm sorry I can't invite everyone to the wedding. You would enjoy every minute of it, but we can't get one million people into our living-room, though you'd never believe it when we have our annual party. And you'd enjoy the reception even more, with Kim's cat and ours flying into a screeching, spitting, squalling fight every three minutes.

One of the biggest ordeals, of course, is meeting the future in-laws. We got through that last Sunday, and it went off fine. The kids sat nervously biting their nails up to the knuckles, as they watched it.

Dot, a sensible person like myself, and I got along fine. She accepts life as it is, and does something about it. She'll be a fine mother-in-law. Doug and my wife are both nuts about classical music — and they got along fine. He and I are going trout fishing, so we got along fine.

cough medicine, an excellent cough medicine, an excellent combination, by the way, and could scarcely bear to part.

But to get back to my thesis, and I'm afraid I've wandered a bit, we can't invite everybody. So I'll make it official.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. T. Smiley announce the marriage of their daughter,

KIM ELIZABETH (university drop-out) to Mr. Donald Sieber (impo-vised artist) on May 6th, 1972

This dubious affair will take place at Kim's home 303 Hugel Ave., Midland, Ont. (Probably) That's the gist of the thing. There. Don't feel hurt because you haven't received a personal invitation. If you had, it would be like getting a personal invitation to the Black Hole of Calcutta.

Why do young people want to get married anyway? In my day, it was the only way to get to know what. But with the pill, and the new concept of "morality", it all seems rather dopey.

Oh, well, I'll probably weep during the ceremony. And when I weep, it's a sight to behold. Strong women, who have never wept in their lives, except over a lost eye-lash, come up and pat me, and try to dry my eyes with kleenex, and all they do is make me weep louder, and wetter, will understand.

The only advice I can give at this moment is that if you have to have a daughter, have five. I imagine by the time the fifth was gotten rid of, you'd be able to control yourself, to some extent.

O.P.P. REPORT

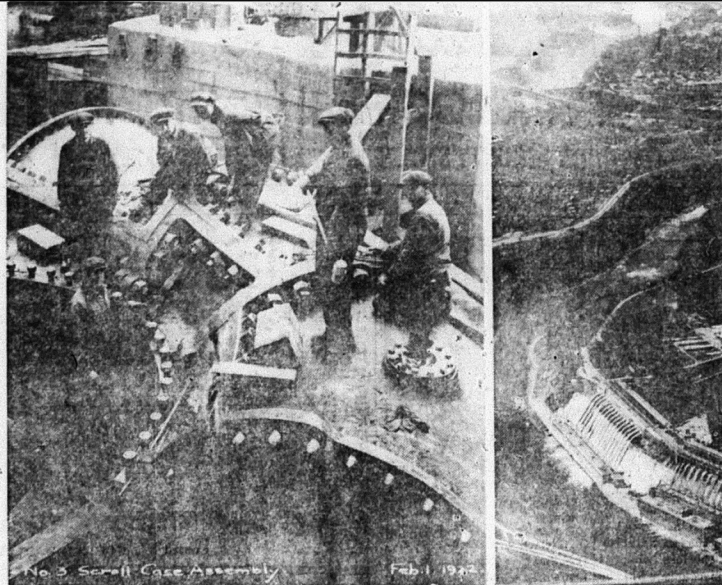

During the week of April 28th to May 5th, 1972, Officers of Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police, investigated 12 motor vehicle accidents, 11 of property damage, and one of personal injury with two persons taken to hospital.

There were four reports of thefts and one report of Breaking and Entering. There were two disturbances and 65 other general occurrences.

In Criminal Court, Madoc, Ontario, 22 convictions were registered.

Now that Spring is officially here, this means we'll be having many rainy days. On these rainy days, be watchful for children. Remember... It's harder to stop on the wet pavement if a child suddenly darts out in front of you. Please take it easy on rainy days, watch for children, and remember, children won't always remember to watch for you!

Sergeant R. N. Dowe,
Detachment Commander.

Fifty Years of Power

In January 1922, electricity flowed for the first time from Ontario Hydro's original Sir Adam Beck-Niagara generating station, six miles downstream from Niagara Falls. Just past its fiftieth anniversary, the plant is still an integral part of the power supply in Ontario.

When it was built, the station was the most ambitious development of its kind ever tackled, and for years it remained the largest hydro-electric plant in the world. Over twelve miles of canal were dug to carry water from the headworks above Horseshoe Falls to the plant, and much of the work involved steam-driven or horse-drawn vehicles.

Most of the plant still operates at the old 25-cycle frequency, supplying local industries that didn't change over to 60-cycle in the 1950's. A second Beck plant, on the falls side of the first, was opened in 1954.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSON — In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Vivian Johnson, who passed away May 8th, 1969.

Just a prayer from we who loved you

A precious memory, kind and true

In our hearts you will live forever

Because we thought the world of you.

Always remembered by husband and family. 19-1

McQUIGGE — In loving memory of our dear Mom and Grandma, on Mother's Day, Helen McQuigge.

We had a mother with a heart of gold.

Who was more to us than wealth untold

Without farewell she fell asleep

With only memories for us to keep.

If she could have spoken before she died

These are the words she would have replied:

"This life for me has truly passed

I loved you all to the very last.

Weep for me, but courage take,

And please love one another for my sake."

So sadly missed by daughter, Sharon, sons Ross, Wayne, Robert, Elwood and families. 19-1

CARDS OF THANKS

To the O'Hara Community and friends and relatives who attended our Bridal Shower at the O'Hara School on May 5th. Patsy and Sharon Embury wish to extend appreciation and thanks for the enjoyable evening and lovely gifts. Thank you. 19-1

I wish to extend many thanks to my relatives and friends for flowers, gifts and cards.

A special "thank you" to Dr. Parkin for his efficient care and to the Canadian Tire Proprietor and staff of Madoc for their flowers and many acts of kindness while I was in Belleville hospital during the birth of our son.

Mary Ann Pack 19-1

I wish to extend sincere thanks to all my friends, neighbours and relatives for flowers, cards, gifts and visits I received while in hospital and since returning home.

Mabel Lloyd 19-1

We wish to thank our relatives and neighbours for their kindness toward us during the recent loss of a loving Aunt Sarah Wallace.

A special thank you to the MacKenzie Funeral Home in Derry and Rev. Hawkes for his kind words.

Nieces and Nephews 19-1

We deliver.

The rest is up to you.

Delivering a constant flow of power, dependably and safely—that's your Hydro's round the clock responsibility. And because electricity provides so many services so dependably, most homeowners can take it for granted.

And yet, in many homes over ten years old, the quality of service is severely restricted—simply because the wiring is outdated and inadequate.

Rewiring can make a world of difference. In convenience by providing ample outlets and switches where you want them. In performance, by bringing full power to your appliances so that they can operate at peak efficiency. In safety, by eliminating the hazards of an overburdened wiring system. Good reasons for giving top priority to your home wiring when you consider making improvements.

To find out what rewiring can do for your home, call a qualified Electrical Modernization contractor soon. Or ask your Hydro.

MEETING

(Continued from Page 1) and a board member of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, also addressed the meeting. He had just returned from Ottawa, where a delegation had met with the different political parties to discuss a feed grain policy - whereby a workable price might be arrived at for both the western producer and the eastern buyer. He also gave his audience a complete picture of what was going on at the higher level.

Mr. Ossie Bowes, O.F.A. fieldman for Hastings County spoke on membership.

Mr. Henry Van Winkoop reported on the April O.F.A. directors' meeting he attended in Toronto.

The members accepted an invitation from the members of Prince Edward County to join them for a picnic in July.

The next regular meeting will be held on May 23rd at 8:00 p.m.

320-LB. CALVES
IN 4 MONTHS!

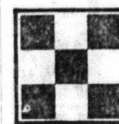

Two new calf rations—new, Magic Formula Purina Nursing Chow and new Purina Startena—can help you raise big, husky calves months earlier than slow-poke sisters fed other ways.

New Nursing Chow contains extra energy and more digestible proteins that help get calves off to a fast, healthy start. It mixes in seconds, won't settle out, flows through nipple pails and automatics without clogging.

New Calf Startena is higher in energy, lower in fiber, and more digestible than ever before. It keeps calves growing and gaining so they're big enough to breed at 12 to 15 months.

Call or visit us whenever you have calves to raise. And feed them the Purina way... on new Purina Nursing Chow and new Calf Startena.

Mr. B. Fraser of Eldorado, had one of the closest calls of his career last Wednesday evening when his car, instead of following the County road over the bridge spanning Deer Creek near Smith's Garage, crashed through the protecting framework and plunged engine head on over the embankment down into the stream and turned over on its side. How any man could take that plunge and come off limb free is a mystery.

The results of the annual examinations at Queen's University, Kingston were announced last week. The following local students were successful: Harold Falls Cross, Eric W. Cross, Margaret A. Watson, C. J. Whytock and C. F. Tumelty. Harold Falls Cross passed the fourth year in Arts and was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts and the Gold Medal in History. Harold was first in Class I in History (13), he obtained Class I in History 99 and Division III in French 2. Eric W. Cross passed second year examination in Arts, was second in Class I History (2) third in division I in Economics (2) and sixth in division II in English (2) and Division II in French (2). In addition, the following results may be of interest to our readers: The degree of M.A. was awarded to Miss Edith Tuttle of Tweed and Mr. Frederick Bamforth, of Deseronto; and the Degree of Bachelor of Arts to Miss Maude Hammett of Tweed.

Last Friday Madoc played the Marmora baseball team on Marmora grounds and won by a score of 27-18. The size of the scores indicates the character of the game, which was not up to the standard of what other teams can do. The character of the grounds has probably as much to do with size of the scores as the looseness of the playing. Monday following, the return match was played on Madoc grounds when Madoc again won by a score of 22-11. In this match there was some very good playing but also some very loose fielding. Both sides failed at times to stop the grounders.

The strongest part of both teams was the batteries, in which Marmora seemed to have slightly the better of Madoc. Marmora team has quite a few youngsters on the team who considering their size did very well, and if Marmora can retain her present battery until these youngsters get a couple of years more practise they will have a good High School team.

24 YEARS AGO
May 6, 1948

The farmers of Huntingdon Township are invited to attend a meeting on Monday night in the Town Hall, Ivanhoe, for the purpose of having co-operatives in the Madoc area and in the province of Ontario discussed.

A partnership was completed last week whereby Percy M. Locke and Donald G. White will operate a wholesale business under the name of "Northern Wholesale", with headquarters at Madoc. The firm will handle tobacco, confectionery, paper products, sundries, etc. It is the intention of the firm to serve the Counties of Hastings and Lennox and Addington. Mr. Locke purchased the wholesale tobacco business operated by Mr. Fred Curry about 18 months ago, and since that time has greatly extended the radius of the business by introducing new lines. Prior to coming to Madoc, Mr. Locke operated a wholesale tobacco business at Arnprior. Donald White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. White of this village. The firm is agent for Imperial Tobacco Co., MacDonald Limited and Tuckett's Limited. The Review joins with the many friends of the two members of the firm in wishing them every success in their new venture.

The Ontario Provincial Police are opening an office in Madoc Village for the use of the Madoc Detachment. The vacant store in the Blue Block is being renovated and as soon as work is completed the office will be opened. The Marmora Detachment is being closed and in addition to Provincial Constable Hatch, the officer in charge of the Marmora Detachment, Prov. Constable Thomas Lummis, will be stationed in Madoc. In accordance with the Ontario Provincial Police plans all cars in the district will be radio equipped and it is expected the new radio service will be in operation within the next month.

Roscoe Robson, M.P.P., was again elected by the Progressive-Conservative Delegates of East Hastings to represent that party in the coming provincial election, June 7th, at a largely attended convention held in the Armories here yesterday. Two names were presented to the convention, Clarence Graham, of Tweed, and the successful candidate, Roscoe Robson. The Association elected officers as follows: President, Elmer Post, West Huntingdon; 1st Vice President, Kenneth Vivian, Shannonville; 2nd Vice President, S. McCrae, Tweed; Secretary, Arnold Gabel, Madoc; Treasurer, Fred Curry, Madoc; Assistant President, Mrs. Atkins, Cannifton; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Newell Broad, Madoc. The principal speakers were Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, George White, M.P., Roscoe Robson, M.P.P., and Clarence Graham. Births - In Belleville General Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCoy (nee Olive Blue), a son, Thomas Robert. At Noranda, Quebec, on Sunday, April 25th, 1948, to Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fenn, of Cadillac, Quebec, a daughter.

15 YEARS AGO
May 16, 1957

Fire which started from overheated stove pipes, badly damaged the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy last Monday noon. When the firemen arrived at the scene, the attic was full of flames and the roof was on fire in several places. The fire was brought under control and the firemen deserve a lot of credit for their efforts. A line of hose was laid from the village pump house and before the flames were extinguished it was necessary to play two streams of water on the building. The loss, which is covered by insurance, will be heavy as the building was actually flooded with water.

The Prime Minister of Canada, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, will be in Belleville on Friday, May 17, to deliver an election campaign address. On the same day, Mr. St. Laurent will visit Port Hope and Cobourg.

On Friday night members of the Madoc Hockey Club were guests of the Kiwanis Club at their regular weekly dinner. The speaker was Murray Henderson, former Boston Bruins player and former Hershey Bears coach. He was introduced by another former player, Dick Clapper, of Peterborough. During the evening solos were rendered by Raymond Smith, which were enjoyed by those present. A presentation was made by the Kiwanis Club to four players, of cheques, in appreciation of their work in coaching and supervising youngsters on Saturday mornings. Governor Jack Baker was present and spoke briefly as did Alex McLellan and Harry Tufts.

Education Minister Dunlop said recently there will be enough teachers to take care of 1,100,000 students in the province this year. Mr. Dunlop and Public Works Minister Greisinger officially opened Hamilton Teachers' College destroyed by fire three years ago. The education minister said that teachers' colleges in Ontario have about 3,300 prospective teachers this season. Some are taking one year courses and some a two-year course.

On Thursday evening, May 2nd, Mrs. Kenneth Connor and Mrs. Thomas Rupert entertained about fifty guests in honour of Miss Doris Caverly, who is to be married next month in Baltimore, Maryland, to Dr. Whitmore Piror. A profusion of spring blossoms and daffodils gave a festive air to the reception. During the evening the bride-to-be was presented with a beautiful Irish linen damask table cloth and dinner napkins and also a satin-bound rose wool blanket. All the guests present signed the presentation card and extended to Doris every good wish for much happiness in her new home. Jane Rupert made the presentation. Mrs. Rupert reminded Doris's mother that she wasn't losing a daughter, but gaining a son. "My son's my son till he gets a wife; But my daughter's my daughter all her life."

George S. White, who has represented this area at Ottawa for the past seven years, was again the unanimous choice of the delegates to represent the Progressive Conservative Party in the June 10 elections. The convention was held in the Madoc Armories on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Wedding - The 40-voice church choir provided the musical setting for the wedding at Grace United Church, Napanee, on Easter Monday evening April 22, 1957, at seven o'clock when Harriett Evelyn Fay Smith, of Napanee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Smith of Hay Bay, became the bride of William James Aylsworth of Madoc, son of Mrs. Aylsworth and the late James Aylsworth, Madoc Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of the church officiated, and the church organist, Mrs. B. M. Black, presided at the organ.

ELDORADO U.C.W.

The President, Mrs. Floyd Blackburn called the meeting to order with Psalm 95, verses 6 and 7.

Mrs. Allan Franks gave the worship service from "Patterns for Devotion". Mrs. Leonard Blackburn gave the scripture 1st Peter, verses 1 to 17.

Hymn 252 was sung. Collection was taken and dedicated. Hymn 356 was sung. The service closed with prayer.

The roll call, "A Cotinry of Africa" was answered by the 20 members and 5 children present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Treasurers Report was given.

A letter was read concerning the Seminar which was to be held in Belleville on Monday, May 8th.

An invitation was read from Queensboro U.C.W. to a Tea and Bake Sale to be held on June 9th.

The next meeting will be held on June 1st at the home of Mrs. Floyd Blackburn.

Mrs. Cecil Blackburn was the programme convenor on the African Pact.

The program concerned the projects, priorities and people of Africa.

A discussion followed. Hymn 8 was sung. The meeting closed with prayer.

Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Council Meeting

Council of the Townships of Elzevir & Grimsthorpe met on Monday, May 1, 1972 at 8:00 p.m. with all members present. Reeve K. Smith presiding.

The minutes of the April meeting were read.

K. Cassidy - J. Kehoe - that the minutes be adopted as read.

E. Alexander - J. Kehoe - that Lots E1, 21, con. 8, and E1, 28, con. 9, be placed with Bowes and Cocks Real Estate and that signing officers sign listing form.

Correspondence was read and accounts presented.

C. Gordon - E. Alexander - that the following accounts be paid: Road Voucher No. 4, $1,227.69; Cleaning waste disposal areas, $80.00; County of Hastings, $102.15; Hastings County Board of Education, $135.14; Misc., $83.52.

carried.

The Clerk was asked to get estimates on installation of electric heat and remodelling of windows and doors in the auditorium of the Township Hall to make it suitable for use as a gymnasium for Bridge-water School.

The Clerk was also asked to check some properties listed for tax sale at the county office. It is believed that some tax write-offs are warranted.

Estimates for 1972 were examined and an increase of about 14 mills appears likely.

C. Gordon - J. Kehoe - that council adjourn to June 5th at 8:00 p.m.

carried.

Lloyd H. Price, Clerk - Treasurer.

HELP WANTED: BUT NOT YOU!

WHEN YOU READ THE JOB ADS, ARE THEY ALWAYS LOOKING FOR SOMEONE ELSE? IF SO, YOU OUGHT TO SEE WHAT MANPOWER TRAINING THROUGH LOYALIST COLLEGE OF APPLIED ARTS AND TECHNOLOGY CAN DO FOR YOU.

Thousands of Canadians are breaking out of the cycle of unemployment, part-time work and dead-end jobs by training in today's skills through the CANADA MANPOWER TRAINING PROGRAM.

Training can help you find and hold a good job, and boost your earning power. If you are unemployed or underemployed, or your job is becoming obsolete, training is probably the answer.

More than 300,000 Canadians benefited last year at no cost to themselves. Courses are paid for by federal government and provided in provincial training schools.

You may be eligible for training if you are at least one year past the school leaving age in your province. You may also be eligible for an allowance, if you have been a member of the work force for three years, or if you have a dependent.

Training today can mean a good job tomorrow. The first move is up to you.

Consult your CANADA MANPOWER CENTRE. An experienced counsellor will help you decide whether the Canada Manpower Training Program can work for you...

Madoc and District Minor Sports Association Proposes Constitution

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(By BEV. BROWNING)

Sunday is Mother's Day. You know — the day that she doesn't have to do any housekeeping, breakfast in bed, and maybe dinner in some swanky restaurant. And all those gifts of appreciation — flowers from Dad, a new pop record from teenage daughter and "Mom may I borrow five dollars", from teenage son. Oh, a glorious day of being waited upon and of relaxation.

Ah, cheer up, Mother. That teenage son or daughter will soon be old enough to get married and raise his or her own family. Then they will experience the joys of parenthood. The broken hours of sleep to quiet a crying baby. The hours of sleepless nights tending a sick infant who cannot understand why he or she feels that way. Oh, they will be trained like you were. Trained to be concerned over their well being. They will learn to worry, to love, to hate and to be fair.

It is too bad some teenagers of today who feel their parents are too concerned over their well being couldn't remember those nights. But as I said, they trained you that way. They expect you to let them lead their own lives — and a fair Mother will when her children show trust and a sense of responsibility. If they could only walk in your shoes for a month.

In all fairness, Mothers, some of you are too concerned while others may be at the other end of the scale of being too unconcerned. Finding that happy medium is another difficult task facing you today. But, on the average, you are doing an excellent job.

Children are like mirrors. They reflect what's put before them. To all Mothers and especially my own and my Mother-in-law, I hope this "Mother's Day" is something special. May your most precious gift be appreciation.

Now That I've Been Introduced May I Come In:

There are many famous writers in the world of today and of the world gone by, but the most clever, humorous and witty phrases come from the mouths of babes.

Last Monday night when I returned home from school, Anita Willemssen, my two-year-old friend from next door, was holding a usual conversation with my daughter, Sherri-Ann, through the glass door at the side of the house. While Anita can carry on a conversation, Sherri-Ann's vocabulary is limited. When I arrived on the scene Anita stood back and watched as Sherri-Ann and I made funny faces at each other through the glass in the door. Finally Anita couldn't take anymore. She pressed her lips to the glass at about the level of Sherri-Ann's head and whispered, "That's Mr. Browning".

If teachers kept track of some of the humorous things primary students say at school they could write a best seller. Just last week I was speaking to two five year olds plus about coming into class after the bell rings at recess. Having felt I made my point, I asked them if they both understood, to which one boy answered, "I've got a red truck at home." Has anyone seen me, lately?

"Pot Hole of the Month" Award: If you are driving out the Old Marmora Road this prize-winning pot hole can be driven into on the right hand side of the road driving west over the first dip or hill in the road west of the railway tracks. For people not knowing it is there it could prove disastrous.

"Wished I'd Said That" Department: Before putting your tongue in gear make sure your brain is engaged.

Correction: Last week in the section about the Ladies' Softball League it should have read — the schedule will begin the first week of June and will end the last week of July.

Softball registration for boys and girls was held last Saturday. There is still time to register if you haven't already. You had better do it soon because they will be selecting teams shortly. Registration is open to all boys and girls in the village of Madoc and district.

Story Worth Retelling: A mother once had five-year-old twin boys. One was too much of an optimist while the other was too much of a pessimist. So she went to her family doctor for advice. All she wanted was them evened up a little. The doctor told her to put the pessimist into a room filled with every toy imaginable. While the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but a box of horse manure and a spoon.

So the disturbed mother tried this remedy. After leaving the boys in their respective rooms for an hour, she decided to check the results. The pessimistic son was still complaining that his brother had more than he had. When she checked her optimistic son, she found him digging through the horse manure with the spoon. As he dug he kept saying, "With all this manure there must be a pony in there somewhere."

(You can lead a horse to water, but if you can get him to troll over and bark like a dog you've got something there).

As it says, "Mostly about something but not necessarily."

At the May 4th meeting of the Executive of the Madoc and District Minor Sports Association a draft constitution was presented and unanimously adopted. This constitution was designed to provide a framework of laws and by-laws under which the members would operate and be governed. It is thought that a long-standing need will be met when the Constitution is adopted by the membership.

The terms of the Constitution are as follows: 1. The name of this organization shall be the Madoc and District Minor Sports Association. 2. Its function is to provide and maintain all types of sports for young people up to and including 18 years of age. 3. The Executive shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, plus Executive members (if they exist), Convenors of hockey, ball, soccer, and their

Assistant, if any, a fund raising Chairman, and an Equipment Manager. 4. Duties of the President: (1) to preside over all meetings whether they be general or executive, (2) to cast the deciding vote, should there be a tie on some matter, (3) be a member of all sub-committees. 5. Duties of Vice-President: (1) to take over the duties of the President when he is unable to attend. 6. Duties of Secretary: (1) take minutes of all meetings and present them at the next meeting, (2) deal with all correspondence on behalf of the Association, 7. Duties of the Treasurer: (1) to handle all monies of the Association, (2) to pay authorized bills on behalf of the Association, (3) to see what information re grants is turned in to the village auditor. 8. Duties of the Convenor: (1) to organize the sport for which they are responsible, (2) to refer any problem that they feel requires attention to the executive. 9. Duties of Fund Raising Chairman: (1) to give final authorization to any scheme designed to raise monies for the Association, 10. Duties of Equipment Manager: (1) to purchase all equipment for the Association. No bills signed by any other person are to be accepted by the treasurer unless he receives written acknowledgement from the manager authorizing purchase by some other party, (2) to be responsible for the distribution, care and maintenance of all equipment owned by the Association, (3) to secure equipment through the Athletics Commission of Ontario. 11. Conduct of Players and Coaches in the Association: Players and coaches will conduct themselves in a manner which is not detrimental to the teams or Association which they represent. 12. Discipline: (1) there shall be a disciplinary board consisting of the President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and the Convenor (s) of the sport involved to deal with any infractions of Section 11, (2) all parties in a dispute are to be notified in writing of a hearing, (3) the decision of the disciplinary board is binding on all parties involved. 13. there shall be at least one meeting every two months of the Executive and one annual meeting of the Membership.

On a motion by Capt. J. H. Thompson, seconded by J. Watson Jr., the Constitution was adopted for presentation at the next General Meeting.

A membership fee of $1.00 per ball player was set for the 1972 ball season. Registration for Minor Ball is to take place on Saturday, May 6th, at the entrance to C.H.S.S. A registration and responsibility release form is to be submitted at that time.

Charles Gordon was appointed sole purchaser of Ball Equipment for the Association for 1972. A notice re outstanding accounts is to be published in the Madoc Review. The secretary was directed to obtain copies of the Coaches Softball Manual from the Youth and Recreation Branch.

The Minor Sports Association agrees to back the minor ball teams for light expenses.

Correspondence was received and dealt with re Ontario Sport Lottery and Locations of Coaches Survey.

The Executive meeting adjourned until June 7th, 1972 at 7:30 p.m.

FISH CONTEST OPENED APRIL 29TH

The 14th annual Big Fish Contest, run by The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, opened on April 29th and will end November 18th. Cash awards totalling $3,200.00 range from $100.00 for the biggest fish in each of the eight eligible species to $10.00 for fifteenth prize.

The contest is conducted in co-operation with Molson's Brewery (Ontario) Limited who have provided anglers to date with over $41,000.00 in cash awards. In addition to the cash awards, every angler entering a fish that meets the minimum weight requirements for the species, qualifies for the Master Anglers' Badge. The eligible fish are Rainbow Trout, Speckled (Brook) Trout, Lake Trout, Walleye (Pickerel), Northern Pike, Largemouth Bass, Small-mouth Bass and Maskinonge. A clear photograph of the fish must accompany the entry form. On the back of the form is a data report which anglers are urged to complete and also to submit a scale sample. This information is passed to the Ministry of Natural Resources to aid in sport fisheries management.

Entry forms are available at convenient locations throughout the province and can be obtained by writing to The Big Fish Contest, Box 480, Richmond Hill, Ontario.

KELLAR'S BRIDGE

Mrs. Ria Smith and children of Trenton visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers on Sunday.

Callers of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Derry were Mr. Earl Derry, Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dombrowski and family of Kitchener.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood have moved into their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston have purchased the property and store of Roy Wood. They are planning on reopening the store very soon.

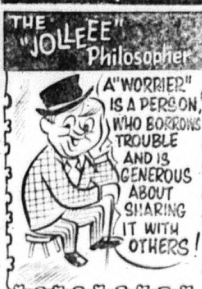

Miss Pamela Wood journeyed to Toronto on Monday boarding a plane to fly over the Niagara Peninsula along with other students of C.H.S.S.

Mesdames Cecil Boyle, Blanche Sandford, Mary Blackburn and Marguerite Blackburn attended a U.C.W. Meeting in Belleville on Monday staying to hear Rex Humbard. Mrs. Roy Wood and Stephen also attended Rex Humbard. There was a capacity crowd in the arena.

Many in the area wish Don Post a speedy recovery in Kingston Hospital.

A very large crowd gathered on Saturday night to chivari Lloyd and Gwen Bateman. Our best wishes go to them in their new career in life.

ARDA ASSISTANCE FOR QUINTE DISTRICT PLANT

The vegetable industry in the Quinte district of Ontario will receive a substantial boost, with the approval of a $225,000 ARDA grant to assist in the establishment of a half million dollar vegetable processing plant on an approved site near Trenton.

Announcement of this grant was made simultaneously by Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food for Ontario, and Hon. Jean Marchand, Minister of Regional Economic Expansion for Canada.

The two levels of government will share equally the cost of this ARDA grant under the terms of Part V of the Federal-Provincial Rural Development Agreement, signed in 1970 and effective until 1975.

The production of vegetable crops (peas, beans, corn, carrots, squash and pumpkins) has been an important source of income to farm families in the Quinte District. Over the past 10 years there has been a steady decline in marketings of these crops for canning purposes, but the demand for frozen foods is increasing.

Local producers petitioned ARDA to provide financial assistance to establish a producer-owned processing plant on a site that has adequate water supplies, and sewage disposal possibilities. It is expected this new facility will provide a market outlet in 1972 for 14 million pounds of corn and 3 million pounds of peas with an on-farm value of more than $370,000. Initially 40 producers will be affected, providing each with a much improved and stable farm income. In addition between 20 and 25 year-round jobs will be provided by this plant.

Speaking on the importance of this new undertaking, Hon. Wm. A. Stewart said, "We believe this represents a new era for the vegetable industry in the Quinte district. The farmers there have the expertise, they have an investment in equipment, and they are anxious to produce commodities for which a good market potential exists. If the two levels of government through our Rural Development Agreement had not acted to support these growers and the industry, this important area of rural Ontario would have faced serious economic dislocation and loss of income. Instead, with the cooperation of the marketing companies in the area, and the growers, we are creating a new outlet for a growing market and, we hope, a new future for the vegetable industry in the Quinte district."

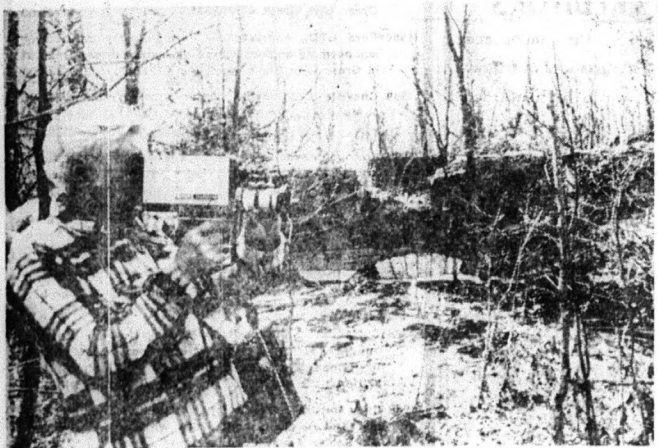

Cooperating in this project are the three produce contracting firms in the area, Omar Farm Produce Company, Baxter Canning Company, and Trenton Cold Storage Co. These companies, together with the growers, are matching the ARDA grant in order to establish this vegetable processing industry.

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Clarke. There was an attendance of fifteen, including members and visitors.

The president opened the meeting by reading a selection entitled, "Rocking Chair Religion," and Eroy. 3: 5,6, followed by prayer.

Mrs. A. Robertson was pianist and the hymns, "Tell me the stories of Jesus" and "Take my life and let it be" were sung during the devotional period. Mrs. Blakely read the Scripture Lesson, Acts 16: 13-40, after which Mrs. Hawkes offered prayer.

A letter of appreciation from the Presbyterian Treasurer, was read by Mrs. Reid.

Members were reminded of the rally to be held in Stirling, May 31st. A motion was made to have the June meeting of the W.M.S. on the 8th because the Lilac Tea is to be held at the manse on the regular day.

Members answered the roll call by giving a verse of scripture containing the word "charity."

The chapter in the study book entitled, "Lydia, a Career Woman," was presented by Mrs. Woods. Lydia's search for the truth led her to become the first Christian convert in Europe. Her Christian influence and service brought about the first church in Philippi from whence Christianity spread to other parts of Europe. Pertinent questions were asked and an interesting discussion concluded the lesson. The meeting closed with prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. R. Lewis and Miss Marion Robertson.

TRY THESE TIPS...
Mrs. Paula Green
Director - Consumer Affairs Dept.
The Ontario Group Limited
125 The Queensway Toronto 18, Ont.
— Make a note of the amount of food wasted every day. Plan for full utilization of what you buy, as "planned over" meals.
— Substitute less costly foods for more expensive items within the same group: for instance, bread instead of fancy rolls, cabbage instead of lettuce.
— Know the cost per serving of each food group and compare — fresh against canned and frozen fruit and vegetables, dried skim milk instead of whole fluid milk, etc. (Ask Mr. IGA for a list of number of servings per package size).
— Watch food ads and know what specials are available.
— Save drippings for cooking other foods.

What kind of man is Mr. IGA?
He's the caring kind, like
Burt Johnston

Burt is a busy man. He's the father of five, an active community member and owner of two successful IGA stores. Still he finds the time to give his customers the kind of courteous, personal service they've come to expect from IGA. It's a matter of pride with Burt and the other independent businessmen who own and operate their own IGA stores. They've worked hard to build a solid reputation for equality and customer service. Each and every day, they work just as hard to live up to that reputation.

Seven trophies were donated to the Madoc Lanes by the following merchants: Madoc Co-op, Ed Kramp Superstore, Pigeon's Motor Sales, Hagerman's Sports & Cycle, Embury Builders Supplies, Kincaid's I.G.A. and Grant Brett Ski doo.

These trophies were won by the following bowlers: Bob Gordon, for the bowler under 180 average with highest 3 games; Verna Watson, Most Improved Lady Bowler; Byron Watson, Most Improved Male Bowler; Jane and Bill Bond, Best Combined Average for Husband & Wife; Leslie Chapman, Lowest Average; Joe Mallia, High Three-Game Average for Spares.

Gerry Snider played the piano for a sing song to complete a successful year.

C.H.S.S. REPORT

(By GORD REID)

On Tuesday, May 16th, the Centre Hastings Concert Band left for their long awaited trip to Simcoe Cosmopolitan School. The band boarded the buses at approximately 9:10 a.m. The students will be billeted with Simcoe Band members for the nights of May 16th and 17th and will return May 18th at around three o'clock in the afternoon.

The band has worked very hard for this trip, holding a pancake supper, selling items, and holding a concert, which turned out to be a successful night.

On the way home the band will return via Niagara Falls to see the fruit blossoms.

I am confident that I speak on behalf of all the band members in thanking Mr. Aylsworth for spending so many patient hours in building such a successful band.

Policemen Are Human Beings

(From the Michigan Police Journal)

Policemen, believe it or not, ARE human. They come in both sexes, but mostly male. They also come in various sizes. This sometimes depends on whether you are looking for one or trying to hide something. However, they are mostly big.

Policemen deliver lectures, babies and bad news. They are required to have the wisdom of Solomon, the disposition of a lamb and muscles of steel, and are often accused of having a heart to match. He's the one who rings the bell, swallows hard, and announces the passing of a loved one, then spends the rest of the day wondering why he ever took such a crummy job. On T.V., a policeman is an oaf, who couldn't find a bull fiddle inside a telephone booth. In real life, he's expected to find a little blonde boy "about so high" in a crowd of a half million people. In fiction he gets his help from private eyes, reporters, and "who-dun-it" fans. In real life, mostly all he gets from the public is "I didn't see nuthin'."

When he serves a summons he's a monster; if he lets you go he's a doll. To little kids, he's either a friend or a bogey-man, depending on how the parents feel about it.

He works "around the clock" split shifts, Sundays and holidays, and it always kills him when a joker says, "Hey, tomorrow is election day, I'm off, let's go fishing." (That's the day he works 20 hours.)

A policeman is like the little girl who when she is good, is very, very good, but when she is bad, she is horrid. When a policeman is good, he's a grafter and that goes for the rest of them too. When he shoots a stick up man, he's a hero except when the stick-up man is "only a kid, anybody could see that."

Lots of things have homes, some of them are covered with ivy, but most of them with mortgages. If he drives a big car he's a chisler, a little car, who's he kidding? His credit is good that's very helpful, because his salary isn't.

Policemen raise a lot of kids, most of them belong to other people.

A policeman sees more misery, bloodshed, trouble and surprises than the average person. Like the postman, a policeman must also be out in all kinds of weather. His uniform changes with the climate, but his outlook on life remains the same, mostly a blank, but hoping for a better world.

Policemen like days off, vacations and coffee. They don't like auto horns, writers. They have an Association but they don't strike. They must be impartial, courteous and always remember the slogan "a public service." This is sometimes hard, especially when a character reminds him, "I'm a taxpayer, I pay your salary." Policemen get medals for saving lives, stopping runaway horses, and shooting it out with bandits once in a while his widow gets the medals. But sometimes the most rewarding moment comes, when, after some small kindness to an older person, he feels that warm hand clasp. Looks into grateful eyes and hears, "Thank you and God bless you, son."

WEDDING

MR. and MRS. LLOYD C. BATEMAN

BATEMAN - JOHNSTON

Christ Church, Belleville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, April 15th, 1972, at 3:00 p.m., when Gwendolyn Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Johnston, 59 Pine Street, Belleville, became the bride of Lloyd Carman Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barrell Bateman of R.R. 1, Eldorado, Reverend Canon R. B. Wright, officiating.

Wedding music was played by Mr. John Withers of Belleville, and traditional wedding Hymns were sung by six choir boys.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a full-length gown of white crepe satin trimmed with the brocade and down the front panels with applique flowers, accented with seed pearls. Her full-length train was trimmed with the same applique flowers and seed pearls. A full-length cathedral veil, edged with English lace, fell from a headpiece with seed pearl and rhinestone trim. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Matron of honour, Mrs. Ruth Johnston, wore a nylon chiffon gown featuring a floral skirt and a plain bodice in turquoise. She wore dainty blue and white flowers in her hair and carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

Bridesmaids, Miss Debora Fitzgerald, friend of the bride, and Miss Brenda Bateman, sister of the groom, were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Castleton Stamp Club Display And Explain Hobby

By GERALDINE WOODCOCK

The Castleton Stamp Club gave an excellent display at Centre Hastings Secondary School, Madoc, on Tuesday, May 16th. The Club members who showed their work and gave an explanation were: Mark Benveniste, Stewart Sweeney, Cathy Sweeney, Cathy Ingles, Rick McKague. Adults accompanying the club members were Mrs. Kay McKague, Mrs. Benveniste and Mr. J. C. McKague.

Students were keenly interested in the following: (1) hidden clues on stamps seen with microscope; (2) cottages made using stamps; (3) stamps on topics such as space, famous people and fish; (4) a 58-page stamp book on scouts from many countries; (5) imperfections in stamps; (6) 3-dimensional stamps from Britain; (7) Fairy tales on stamps; (8) England has no name on any of its stamps (first country to provide stamps).

The group were welcomed by Geraldine Woodcock and Craig Reid expressed appreciation.

The Special Education class were hosts of the group and presented each guest with a corsage a product of their horticulture class. During the class time, the special education classes interviewed the guests and learned interesting aspects of this hobby.

Mr. Ken Galloway, Principal of Marmora Public School, was chairman of the program.

After a delicious dinner, Mr. Dave Weir was called upon to introduce some of the guests present. They were Mr. Jack Reynolds, Levey of Marmora who brought greetings from his village, Rev. Barbara Allen of Tawad, Mr. Charles Mowatt, Principal of Madoc Township, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Lorne Spence, Chairman of the Hastings County Board of Education. Mrs. Galloway, wife of the principal, welcomed the group.

only in pink, with pink and white flowers in their hair and carried pink and white nosegays of mums. Junior bridesmaid, Miss Sonya Johnston, niece of the bride, was dressed in pink to match the bridesmaids, and carried pink and white mums.

Mr. Dorian Bateman was his brother's best man, and ushers were Mr. Ron Johnston, brother of the bride, Mr. Douglas McCoy, friend of the groom, and Mr. Bob Prentice, cousin of the groom.

For the reception held at the Sun Valley Motor Hotel in Belleville, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a full-length gown of nylon chiffon over taffeta, with a matching vest. Mauve sequins trimmed the dress. She wore silver shoes and carried a silver purse. A purple orchid corsage complemented her outfit.

Assisting the groom's mother were a beige crimpole dress with an overcoat of brown lace. Brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses completed her ensemble.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake on a silver platter.

For the wedding trip to West Palm Beach, Florida, the bride donned a floor-length gown of blue and white brocade, white shoes and purple and a corsage of blue and white carnations.

The couple are residing at R.R. 1, Eldorado.

Out of town guests were present from Bowmanville, Ottawa, Oakville, Oshawa and Madoc.

DIRECTORS NAMED FOR MEDICAL CENTRE

The large number of interested persons who attended the meeting to discuss the proposed Medical Centre, which was held last night in the Town Hall, learned that approximately $10,000 has been pledged toward the project. This figure does not include the land offered by the Kiwanis Club.

During the meeting, Dr. Derry presented plans which he had drawn up for the Medical Centre and also introduced Dr. A. K. Dosaj, who has joined his office.

A period of questions from the floor raised a number of interesting points about donations, property, etc.

Rev. Mr. Heard stated that he felt a decision should be made as to whether a Limited Company or a Board of Directors will operate the Centre. After much discussion and the presentation of other possibilities, a motion was made by Robert Kirkwood and seconded by Orval Ross that an Association be formed, entitled, "Centre Hastings Medical Clinic Association".

The following were elected to the Board of Directors for the Association: Gail Blakely, Dr. Derry, Frank Downey, Doug Heard, Vera Hill, Ron Patrick and Jim Watson. (A meeting of the Directors was scheduled to be held on Monday, May 29th, in the Council Chambers at 8:30 p.m.)

Pres. Nickle moved the meeting be adjourned.

SUMMER ART SHOW NEXT WEEK

The Madoc Arts Council will be presenting their first Summer Art Show at Centre Hastings Secondary School here next week.

At seven o'clock Friday evening, June 2nd, a two-hour preview with the artists present will get the show underway, and will be followed with a display of local arts, crafts and photography. This public showing will continue on Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The show will feature something of interest to every member of the family, including pottery, painting, floral displays, craft demonstrations, school art, and photography.

Admission rates have been set at $1.00 for adults, 50c for children, or $2.50 per family.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to visit this, the first Summer Art Show.

Madoc Junior Softball

Sunday night saw the beginning of the ball season for the Madoc Juniors who played the Marmora Juniors. There were many familiar faces on the playing field again this year. This year the Juniors are not planning on entering an organized league as such but rather they are playing exhibition games and then will enter the Junior "O.A.S.A." playdowns in the fall.

Play began Sunday night with Madoc Juniors Gord Spencer on the mound and pitching excellent ball for 5 innings. During the third inning the Madoc Juniors took a 2-0 lead.

Following Gord Spencer on the mound in the sixth inning was Jim Trumble and then Robert Cooke came in, in relief of Trumble with the bases loaded and one out.

Trumble made a fine play from centre field picking a fellow off second on a "sleeper" play from Greg Dufco, catcher, and a pitch out from Cooke, which made two out. The next batter for the Marmora Juniors popped up making the third out and leaving the score at 2-0 for Madoc.

So ended the first game in the Madoc Juniors season. Their next game is planned for Thursday night at the Madoc Ball Park at 8:30 p.m. Local support is always appreciated.

Dr. A. K. Dosaj who joined Dr. Derry at his office last week through the Underserved Area program. Born in India, Dr. Dosaj has seen many countries. He was raised in East Africa and two years ago, graduated from the University of Glasgow, Scotland. From there he went to Bermuda and then set up an office in St. John's, Newfoundland, for a while, before coming to Madoc. The 26-year-old general practitioner is single and is presently residing with Dr. Derry and his family.

GEORGE WALDRUM ADDRESSES TEACHERS

Teaching is becoming an aging profession, with less and less new blood being infused into the system each year.

And teachers organizations will have to give thought to maintaining the health of their profession and the high state of motivation that existed in the 1950s and 1960s when the educational system was expanding.

The gloomy forebodings were presented to Centre Hastings teachers last week by Assistant Deputy Minister of Education George Waldrum, a former inspector in the area who returned to Madoc to address a curriculum meeting.

Mr. Waldrum made his point by asking all the first year teachers present to raise their hands in a gathering that would have included more than 30 new teachers 11 years ago when he was an inspector in Centre Hastings area 3.

All elementary, secondary and separate school teachers in the Centre Hastings Association School Area including teachers of Sacred Heart School, Marmora, Marmora Public, Madoc Public, Madoc Township, St. Catharines, Tweed, Tweed Public and Centre Hastings Secondary School gathered at the Kiwanis Centre for the dinner meeting that followed the afternoon curriculum discussion.

Mr. Ken Galloway, Principal of Marmora Public School, was chairman of the program. After a delicious dinner, Mr. Dave Weir was called upon to introduce some of the guests present. They were Mr. Jack Reynolds, Levey of Marmora who brought greetings from his village, Rev. Barbara Allen of Tawad, Mr. Charles Mowatt, Principal of Madoc Township, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Lorne Spence, Chairman of the Hastings County Board of Education. Mrs. Galloway, wife of the principal, welcomed the group.

Mrs. Sue Cotton, former secretary of Mr. George Waldrum, presently secretary of Mr. Frank Tate.

Mr. John Murphy introduced the guest speaker, Mr. George Waldrum, saying that it was a pleasant duty to introduce him, although he felt Mr. Waldrum needed little or no introduction to the people present.

He says he can remember Mr. Waldrum as an inspector in this area singing along with the children and taking part in the classroom activities when he made his inspection visit. He was always very considerate and asked the teacher if he could come in and visit and if it was not a suitable time, he would come back another time.

One Madoc teacher on Mr. Murphy's staff said, "The only trouble is we'll never keep George - he's too good." Mrs. Armstrong said, "Wouldn't he make a good minister of Education?"

Both teachers were very astute in their predictions and Mr. Murphy's time will take care of Mrs. Armstrong's prediction.

On behalf of all the teachers present, Mr. Murphy offered a good warm Centre Hastings welcome to Assistant Deputy Minister of Education, Mr. Waldrum.

"With the average age of the majority of teachers in Ontario increasing year by year, leaders in the educational field will have to develop good management techniques," Mr. Waldrum said.

A good manager is one who ensures feelings of personal growth, involvement and responsibility among his employees and sees that the necessary organization that would make the operation run as a good teacher, and the department of education office.

As the declining numbers of teachers in the province have been noted, the department of education has been studying the situation. In 1967 the number of teachers was 20,443 per cent in 1967 the number was 19,774 per cent and in 1968 it was 19,335 per cent.

"We will have to spend more time with the public, with the business world and with municipal councils to prove we're doing a better job," he stated that in a recent survey of parents, 85 per cent were happy with the quality of education today, while 70 per cent felt education had improved in past five years. This indicates, on the whole, a fairly well satisfied group of parents.

During the boom days of the 1950s, Mr. Waldrum said, education budgets expanded, capital spending on schools increased, teachers became mobile, with about a 25 per cent turnover of staff each year, promotions were rapid and the profession experienced a high state of morale.

During the past 20 years educational costs spiralled and Mr. Waldrum listed the reasons. Among them were the effects of inflation, expanded educational services and programs, the rising labour enrolment in secondary schools increased by 222 per cent, an increase in the student retention rate from 60 per cent to 85 per cent, and the cost of education has been increased by 20 per cent since 1960.

Mr. Waldrum said the department of education was in a position to make a good minister of Education. He said that in a recent survey of parents, 85 per cent were happy with the quality of education today, while 70 per cent felt education had improved in past five years. This indicates, on the whole, a fairly well satisfied group of parents.

"The department has made an effort to equalize the cost burden as well as the quality of education," declared Mr. Waldrum. "The problem is: people want service, but don't necessarily want to pay for it."

Mr. Waldrum had high praise for the state of education in Hastings county.

"Trustees and administrators have done a wonderful job, absolutely outstanding," he said, comparing the situation in 1961-65 when he was an inspector, to the situation today. "In no other place in Ontario could you see so many changes in this period of time."

Mr. Frank Tate, Associate Superintendent of Education for Centre Hastings, thanked Mr. Waldrum for coming. He felt George had done much work in the field of education in this area and had helped to build the foundation, which the teachers of Centre Hastings are working in.

Mr. Tate presented the speaker with a gift of appreciation.

A CANDLE TO LIGHT THE WAY

By BILL SMILEY

Well, you can stop holding your breath. The biggest thing since the building of the pyramids, in the opinion of some people is accomplished. And off our hands after 21 grueling years. It says here.

I hope there's some ancient saying like: "Stormy wedding day, sunny marriage."

Not that there was anything stormy about the wedding itself. It was positively seraphic, and some people were smiling with sheer delight for the first time in years.

But the weather was something else. The day before was sunny and still. The day after was the same. The wedding day was the worst rotten day of a long, rotten spring. Driving rain and bone-chilling wind.

I know, I was there. Out in it, doing all the last-minute chores: ice cubes, cream for the coffee, smokes, mix, dry-cleaners, etc. I have neither a hat nor a raincoat and I couldn't find my wife's umbrella. I was soaked to the skin from the navel both ways.

However, I mustn't complain even though I have my first bad cold, for three years. It was KIM'S DAY, as everyone kept telling me for about a month, and what matter if her dear old Dad has double pneumonia.

Somewhat, as it so often happens, everything fell into place. Her old lady talked her way out of the hospital, then went three solid days and nights without one wink of sleep. She was so nervous and exhausted she was positive she'd have to take to her bed before the ceremony. But from that subterranean depth which most of us don't possess, she not only made it, but came through with flying colours.

The rug-cleaning man had been here and everything was spotless. This was bad, because everybody would have muddy feet. But it was good, because everybody wiped their feet or took off their boots.

A gang of boys had arrived the day before to rake up the lawn. This was good. But it was bad because everybody was too wet to notice.

First arrival was Shelby, an itinerant young actor, one of the men Kim had shared her apartment with all year. No, he was not the bridegroom. This was bad, because Kim was still talking and laughing with him, in jeans and T-shirt, with one hour to go before the ceremony. But this was good, because Shelby is a great mixer, and later on, when we ran out of mix, he went out and got some.

Next guests were two drenched urchins who had hitch-hiked through the torrent some 65 miles. Soaked right through. I didn't know what to do with them. Son Hugh, all the way from Montreal for the day, provided a solution that no middle-aged square would have thought of. He took them downstairs, had them take off their jeans and threw them, (the jeans, not the kids), in the dryer.

Then both front and back doorbells started to ring like a five-alarm fire, and yours truly, the only one dressed, sprinted back and forth, accepting gift-wrapped parcels from little boys and delivery men, hanging up dripping coats, and trying to introduce perfect strangers to each other. Chaos.

But chaos often works better than logistics. This was to be a Baha'i ceremony. The bride and groom, with their typical acumen, had not even decided on the order of the ceremony, and were - well, not squabbling, but arguing - until the moment of truth.

Kim kissed at me, "Dad, you say our prayer after Marlene. That's all you have to remember." And that's about all I did remember.

There is an old cliché: "The bride was beautiful in a . . . Well, I'm here to tell you that the bride was beautiful, in a long, avelite, borrowed dress that looked as though she had stepped out of a Botticelli painting, long auburn hair, huge brown eyes and infinite youth. The groom looked pretty good, too, but his father can write his own column about that.

Most weddings are like funerals. This wasn't. There were prayers, short. Mine, perhaps subconsciously, was a General Thanksgiving from the Book of Common Prayer. Chopin's mazurkas rippled quietly in the background. Brother Hugh sang a haunting song in French and English.

Then came the most dramatic and poignant part of the ceremony. Tapers were lighted, without one ember dropping on the rug. A single candle was lit from them. The bride and groom faced each other, eye to eye, and made their personal oaths (not repeating something after a minister). They had kept secret from each other what they were going to say.

Shelby kissed the rings, put them on the appropriate fingers. The couple kissed. Four beautiful nieces each brought one white rose to the bride. And it was over.

I think it was simple, spiritual and joyous. If I ever get married again, God forbid, I'm going to have a Baha'i ceremony.

I think my daughter said goodbye. I remember a kiss on the cheek, a deft hand extracting from my pocket the promised cheque, and my son-in-law going down to the basement to pick up the double sleeping bag I'd bought in case nobody else did.

Now, how about some grandchildren.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

May 19 1972

The Editor,
Madoc Review,
Madoc, Ontario.

Dear Madam:

As an important part of Ontario's overall regional development program, the Phase One analysis of the Lake Ontario Region will be released at a public meeting on Thursday, June 1st in Peterborough. The meeting is being held in conjunction with the Lake Ontario Development Council.

This report will present the provincial viewpoint on the problems and potentials for the economic and social development of the eight counties in the Region - Durham, Haliburton, Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Northumberland, Peterborough, Prince Edward, and Victoria.

Public discussion and analysis of this preliminary document is vital to the preparation of recommendations for the future development of the Region and will help to ensure that development plans further the expectations people have for the kind of life they want to lead.

Therefore, I would like to invite you personally, to join with me at the public meeting being held at the Rock Haven Motor Hotel, on highway 7, the west city limits of Peterborough, beginning at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, June 1st. Because of your involvement in the community, I hope you will encourage others to attend as well.

I will be speaking about our plans to initiate a "dialogue on development" in the Region based upon the Report which will be released at that time.

I hope you can attend.

Yours sincerely,
W. Darcy McKeough.COOPER

50 YEAR SAGO
June 8, 1922

The opening game of the season of the Trent Valley League in Madoc was played Monday, June 5th. The opposing teams were Madoc and Deloro. The baseball game was officially opened with Reeve Burns as twirler, President Cross at the bat and T. E. Burnside as catcher. The Reeves pitched the first ball true to form but Cross had his batting eye with him and landed squarely on the ball but failed to reach first. The game between the home team and Deloro was the best ever seen here and the closeness of the score kept the spectators on the tiptoe of excitement throughout the whole match. Only once during the whole ten innings did each side score and as the Referee called the game at the end of the tenth on account of rain, the game closed a tie with the score of 1-1.

William Bush, believed to be the oldest man in Nova Scotia, celebrated his 105th birthday on March 17th, at his home, Jordan Ferry. He is in a remarkable state of health for a man of his age. He voted at the Federal election.

Security — "Did you lend that forgetful friend of ours the book he asked for?" "Yes, but I took care to borrow his umbrella the same day."

A Costly Home — Housing Canada's Government comes high in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1921, nearly $2,000,000 was spent on the new Parliament Buildings, which in the matter of minor details and the scheme of ornamentation, are not likely to be completed for some years. Four other big items are: Grounds, including Major's Hill Park, $586,449.21; sundry rented buildings, $884,847.97; departments generally, care and cleaning of departmental buildings, including $100 to E. Snowden for firing the noon gun, $372,992.25; central heating plant, connections and operation, $291,038.22.

Wednesday Half Holiday — The good old summer time is here. Be as cool and comfortable as possible. Have plenty of light clothing. Don't think for a moment you can be hap-laden down with heavy winter clothes — you can't. They would make a saint cross on a bright June day. Two of Canada's Victoria Cross winners will participate in the unveiling of a war memorial in Brighton on Sunday, June 6th. They are Major John Foote, V.C., formerly of Madoc, and Major-General Pearkes, V.C. The memorial will be in the form of a plaque, dedicated to the memory of those who lost their lives in the Second World War. The Brighton Branch of the Canadian Legion is in charge of the ceremonies, with Deputy District Commander A. S. Miller, of Brighton, in command. The plaque will be placed on the cenotaph, erected in 1926 to the memory of the fallen of the First World War.

Ontario To Assist Industrial Milk Producers

The government of Ontario will provide guaranteed bank loans to industrial milk producers who wish to purchase Market Sharing Quota, which is attached to Subsidy Eligibility Quota from the Canadian Dairy Commission. This announcement was made in the Legislature on Tuesday, May 16, 1972 by Hon. William A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food.

"We are definitely interested in maintaining and expanding the industrial milk industry in Ontario, and we want to be very sure that no producer is deprived of Market Sharing Quota because of lack of operating capital."

The new Program provides for bank loans at prime interest rates plus 1 percent, with the loan guaranteed by the Government of Ontario.

"It is our intention to protect the long term opportunities and the competitive position of the industrial milk industry in Ontario," said Mr. Stewart. "No maximums have been placed on the size of these loans, for the Canadian Dairy Commission already has imposed maximums on the amount of Subsidy Eligibility Quota that may be held by any individual producer. As soon as the administrative details have been worked out, and the necessary forms printed, we will be taking steps to ensure that every milk producer in Ontario is fully aware of the opportunities created by this Program."

C.H.S.S. HOUSE SYSTEM DISCUSSED IN COLUMN

The following article appeared in the Globe and Mail on Saturday, April 28th. Written by Dr. Donald Felker, General Secretary of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, the write-up appeared in a weekly column of comment on Ontario education entitled, "Teacher Views". It deals with the House System of Centre Hastings Secondary School and it is felt that it would be of interest to many of our readers.

"As Ontario secondary schools move closer to the era of individual timetables for all students, there is one problem which has already been identified by these schools using the new credit system.

What happens to the home room which was a familiar base of security for the student?

Most adults remember moving from class to class with the home room group - 9A or 10B - sharing the same teachers and the same nervous fears of adjusting to a strange school. For many students, that group acted as a buffer.

SECURITY

The problem of self-identification becomes more difficult however, for the student whose timetable may be entirely different from the friend who lives next door. Many schools have recognized this and are attempting new ways of giving the student the old sense of security.

One such school is Centre Hastings Secondary School in Madoc where the staff and students have been deeply involved in the development of a house system since September, 1970. Quite simply, the house system means that the 1,300 students are divided into five groups — Leo, Libra, Scorpio, Gemini and Sagittarius.

How the system works is not as simple, however, because after two years of trial and error G. L. (Les) Tarrant, the teacher responsible for co-ordinating student activities, emphasizes that school spirit is not something that happens overnight. Nor can it be taken for granted.

The House System was adopted in September, 1970, for several reasons. Mr. Tarrant reported after the first year, "Firstly, the growing emphasis on individual progress and subject proficiency has made the artificial division into programs and streams obsolete."

"Secondly, with individual timetables and the credit system, the conventional home room which gave the student an identifiable unit can no longer exist. An alternative should be provided."

Another factor was the fact that some students came by bus from areas where smaller schools had just been closed. Not only was Centre Hastings S.S. their first experience with a large school, but their time at school was limited by the bus schedule.

From the first day until graduation each student remains in the same house, very aware of that separate identity through different colours and a point system under which the five houses compete against each other.

Each house is sub-divided into nine smaller units of 20 to 30 students, sponsored by a teacher who fills the role of the former home room teacher.

Principal C. M. Griffith is the man who makes the total organization function. But he would be the first to agree that Centre Hastings S.S. leans heavily upon the leadership provided through its student government.

All five houses have their own executives who send junior and senior representatives to an Inter-House Council. The chief officers on the IHC are a Head Girl and Head Boy elected by the total student body. The five voting members on the IHC are the Head Girl and Head Boy, the five student house leaders and five junior representatives.

If the structure sounds slightly complicated, this may explain why the house system got off to what Mr. Tarrant called "a slow beginning" in September, 1970.

FAMILIARITY

But by the beginning of the winter term, both staff and students found themselves far more familiar with the new system. And, according to many,

DON ASH
GULF FUEL OIL
DIESEL AND GASOLINE

TAXI SERVICE

the familiarity meant that they enjoyed the experience of making joint decisions through the house executives and the IHC.

More importantly, the students adapted to individual timetables without having to lose the security of knowing that they belonged to a distinct group and that they had one teacher who was available for advice.

The house system is weeks away from completing its second school year at Centre Hastings S.S., but in that short space of time it has created a pattern that will be studied closely by other secondary schools in Ontario and elsewhere.

Grateful acknowledgement is made to Mr. W. G. Beevor, Vice-Principal of Centre Hastings Secondary School, for submitting this article to the Review.

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(By BEV. BROWNING)

Every week I try to write a column that is mostly about something, but somehow I feel this column will be the "not necessarily". So if you want to browse through the front page again, I'll understand.

Usually part of my column is dedicated to child safety. But this can be boring since you know how to raise your children safely. So you won't mention that June 4-10 is Water Safety Week. I'm not even going to tell you that of the 300 people drowned in Ontario last year, 66 were children under the age of 12 who were left "unsupervised". The reason I'm not going to mention these facts is because I would be spoiling your children's fun and I know you want them to learn through "experience".

This weekend I also felt very strongly about firecrackers. Not the ones that are set off by adults or under adult supervision, but the small packages that children are allowed to buy and set off by themselves. Boy, they are lots of fun! Gives you a chance to use matches in a safe way. They also give a young person a chance to throw them at other young people just to see them run from the bang.

Well, the bang doesn't hurt at all. The fire and explosive powder can do damage though. Just this weekend I know of one small boy who had one thrown at him and it burned through his shirt, undershirt and left a burn on his chest. Now that's what I call "fun". We haven't had a human sacrifice in a long time.

Should firecrackers be banned except under adult supervision? I guess I'm just wasting my breath so I won't mention these feelings either. Why spoil the "fun" these boys and girls are having! Fun, fun, fun.

Cut-down Department: I have a lot of little friends that range from the ages of two to seven. After studying these little characters I've come to the conclusion that to these little people a family consists of a father, mother, brothers and sisters.

For example six-year-old David (maybe he's seven now) was over the other night to help me plant flowers. Not seeing my wife, Evelyn outside helping me he asked me if my "mother was in the house". Boy did that make me feel "young". But like all good things they only last a short time. Just yesterday, six-year-old Tim from next door returned my sunglasses to my wife and told Evelyn they belonged to her "father". Suddenly I feel "old" again.

Well everyone has probably had a good feed of pickered by now. I wonder how many of you adults remember the first fish that you caught. I suppose that fish has sure grown in length with the time that has passed. Well my first catch hasn't grown any. In fact I rarely mention it. Maybe it would be wise not to mention it, but I'm going to anyway.

Remember those "good old days" when a fishing pole consisted of a small limb off a tree with fish line wound around the end. It made it very difficult to cast with this make of pole but it made fishing in a narrow creek just right. It was with this fancy pole that I caught my first fish.

When I was about twelve years old I used to fish in a small creek just about three miles east of Stirling. I was by myself this warm, summer day sitting on the bank with line, hook and worm dangling in the water. After a short time I felt a tug on my line. Thoughts went through my mind that would astound the best of fishermen. What if it was too big to carry home? Maybe I'd have to fight this fish for an hour or so. Ten seconds later my questions were answered. There on my hook dangled a flipping, little, four inch fish. But the most beautiful fish I had ever seen.

I soon had it unhooked and tossed it gently back in the long grass along the bank. Thrilled at my catch... words couldn't describe the thrill. I was torn at this moment between continuing fishing and going home to show the family my first big fish. Well, I decided on the former idea. After an hour of fishing I found to my sorrow that I had caught the only fish I was going to catch that day. So I decided to pack it up and return home with my first catch. To my dismay however, I couldn't find my fish. I searched and searched through that grass but it had disappeared. Now, nobody would believe me. It would only be just another fish story as far as my family was concerned.

So with a heavy heart and a tear in my eye, I trudged home. It was sometime later that I discovered that my prize catch was a "sunfish". Not worth eating. Not even worth mounting. So if you visit my place I won't be able to show you my mounted catch. In fact I won't even mention it.

But I still wonder where it disappeared. Ah, so much for the mysteries of life. To this day the only fish I catch are sunfish and rock bass. I'm doomed.

Thank you Mr. Weatherman for a pleasant, sunny, warm weekend. I forgive you for the late spring.

It was beautiful weather for barbecuing even if the neighbours and relatives give advice on how to barbecue. It was also great weather for planting flowers which will probably conk out before next weekend.

Wished I Said That Department: The "little" kindnesses we do for people helps us to "make" and "keep" friends.

As it says, "Mostly About Something, But Not Necessarily."

Mrs. McEwen, leader of the "Missionettes" at the Tabernacle, was Hostess for a Mother-and-Daughter Banquet on Tuesday night. After a delicious Turkey dinner, the girls had a display of some of their handwork. They also sang and quoted many passages of scripture, which was memorized. They were all congratulated, and everyone agreed that their leader had not labored in vain.

Mrs. Frank Palmer attended the W.I. District Annual at Boulder on Thursday.

Mrs. Donly was among the guests at dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Donly, on Sunday, following the Baptism of their first grandchild, "Joey" Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Cunningham, Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simpson, "Oak Ridges" were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. M. Simpson one day last week.

Mrs. McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sandford and Mrs. Simpson were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley at Malone.

Rev. D. McEwen entertained a number of the Jr. boys to a fishing trip on Saturday.

Mr. Harold Sandford, Oshawa visited his parents recently, and took them to dinner in honour of "Mother's Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sandford and Janey, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sandford and Family, Marmora, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Armstrong and family at Foymouth. The Armstrong family are moving to Quebec in the very near future.

Rev. and Mrs. Bombay, Belleville, were guests at the Tabernacle Sunday morning, while spending the holiday at their cottage.

NOTICE VILLAGE OF MADOC

At the request of the Council of the Village of Madoc, the Ministry of the Environment has under construction within the Village a sewage works project, which is partially completed, to be owned by the Province of Ontario, consisting of sewage treatment facilities adequate to provide sewage treatment to all of the wastes from the existing sewage collector system within the Village and a trunk sewer to convey sewage flows to the treatment facilities at an estimated cost of $210,242. For services provided from these works, it is proposed to impose a service rate of 36 cents per 1,000 gallons of sewage accepted from the municipality.

The project consists of the following works:

- (1) Sewage treatment facilities.
- (2) The installation of a trunk sewer to convey wastes from the now existing collector system to the sewage treatment facilities.

It is proposed to raise the necessary annual revenue for the services provided from the Provincial sewage works as follows:

A surcharge of 95.8 per cent on the annual water bill of domestic users of the system and a surcharge of not less than 88.4 per cent on the water bill of commercial and industrial users of the system. In instances where there is a connection to the existing sewage works but there is no connection to the water works, the charge for sewage service normally recovered by the water bill surcharge is to be recovered by the imposition of a foot frontage rate of 63.9 cents per foot per annum on the owners or occupants of such land. This foot frontage rate does not reduce or eliminate any other frontage rates imposed on properties for sewage or water works.

On the basis of this levy, a home connected to the water works, would pay annually the following charge after the proposed sewage works have been built and connection made:

95.8 per cent surcharge on $44.00
water bill $42.15

A home not connected to the water works would pay the following charge annually after the proposed sewage works are constructed and connection made:

66 foot frontage at 63.9 cents per foot $42.17

It should be noted that these charges are higher than those advertised for the same proposed sewage works in September of 1969, since the actual cost of construction is higher than that previously estimated. The previous rate for sewage service was 21 cents per 1,000 gallons of sewage accepted from the municipality. The typical home charge was as follows:

- A. A property connected to the water works system:
61.06 per cent surcharge on water bill of $44 is $26.87.
- B. A property not connected to the water works system:
66 foot frontage at 40.7 cents per foot is $26.87.

Any ratepayer may, within twenty-one days after the first publication of this notice send by prepaid post to the Clerk of the Village of Madoc, at the address given below, a notice in writing stating his objection to the imposition of the increased sewage rates.

The Ontario Municipal Board may approve of the imposition of the increased sewage rates, but before doing so it may appoint a time and place for a public hearing when any objections will be considered, but notice of such hearing will be given only to those persons who have given notice of objection as provided for above.

DATED AT THE VILLAGE OF MADOC and first published this day of May 17, 1972

Miss O. G. Ashe,
Clerk-Treasurer,
Village of Madoc,
Box 310,
Madoc, Ontario.

FARM NEWS

(BY THE HASTINGS FARM SERVICE CLUB
in co-operation with the ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND FOOD
LIVESTOCK PROTECTION FROM DOGS.

There has been an increase in the number of questions on what protection there is from dogs with respect to livestock. This is a problem that involves the livestock owner in his normal operation in the use of pastures, ranches and feed lots. It involves the municipality, that is the township council, from the standpoint of by-laws and the question of paying damages. It also involves the owners of the dogs who may or may not live in the community. It is totally a matter of responsibility and the necessary control. It is also a question of administering control to keep the greatest harmony in the community.

When we receive inquiries, we refer the livestock owner to "The Dog Tax and Livestock and Poultry Protection Act". Every township clerk will have a copy of this Act on file. In particular, we refer the livestock owner to Part 2, on page 6, section 10. I quote from the Act as follows:

"Section 10: Any person may kill a dog
(a) that is found killing or injuring livestock or poultry;
(b) that in a township or village is found between sunset and sunrise straying from the premises where the dog is habitually kept; that is found straying at any time, and not under proper control, upon premises where livestock or poultry are habitually kept. R.S.O. 1960, c. 111, s. 10; 1965, c. 33, s. 3."

Then if you read on, in Section 11, the responsibility of the municipality to pay damages is spelled out. It is also noted in Section 13 that the municipality can recover the damages paid from the owner of the dog. The Act is straight forward, it covers all the necessary details in processing of any claim or report. The important thing is that it requires only a very simple sense of responsibility on the part of the people concerned to make it unnecessary to have to apply the Act. Failing that, the Act is there for the protection of livestock and it obviously makes provision for the owner to take action.

MANAGEMENT OF REPLACEMENT GILTS

(J. R. Dalrymple, Swine Specialist, Brighton)
Many producers who raise their own replacement gilts often have difficulty getting these gilts bred. In some cases the gilts do not appear to be showing symptoms of heat.

Part of this problem may be associated with the close confinement approximately 8 sq. ft. pig under which market hogs are raised. Housing gilts in small pens or tethering may retard sexual development as well as reduce the intensity of estrus. It is recommended that gilts not be tied up until after they have had one litter. Gilts to be retained for breeding purposes should be separated from the market hogs at 150 to 180 lb. and allowed considerably more space - approximately 20 sq. ft. gilt.

Moving gilts to a different location of the barn, allowing gilts to run outside or the introduction of a service age boar will often start gilts cycling normally.

Don't allow gilts to become excessively fat. This will reduce breeding performance conception rate and litter size.

Most gilts reach puberty at approximately 6 to 7 months of age. It is not advisable to breed gilts the first time they are in heat. The number of eggs released by the ovary are less than for subsequent heat or estrus periods. Litter size should be 1 to 2 pigs/litter more if you breed on the 2nd or 3rd heat rather than the 1st.

Accurate records and weigh and probe information are excellent tools to assist in the selection of replacement gilts. Details on the weigh and probe methods are available from the county O.M.A.F. office.

If purchasing replacement gilts isolate incoming stock if possible for 2 to 3 weeks to avoid the possible introduction of health problems to your swine herd. Check the herd from which you buy gilts to determine health conditions, feeding program and the previous management system as guides in introducing purchased stock to your herd.

TOURISM: BEST CASH CROP, SAYS M.P.P.

"Tourism is one of the best cash crops you can plant in the Highlands of Hastings," was the opening remark of Mr. John Smith, M.P.P., Parliamentary Assistant to Hon. John White, Minister of Industry and Tourism, at the annual general meeting of the Highlands of Hastings Regional Tourist Council held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Trenton.

Mr. Smith continued, "For ideally, tourism can offer you a more bountiful harvest faster than any other industry."

The latest figures for the Highlands Land O Lakes vacation area, for example, reveal there were over 320,000 tourist visits to your area in 1970. It's estimated these tourists spent $3.3 million dollars.

That's why I'm happy to be speaking to you this evening.

Because your provincial government recognizes the economic and social importance of tourism, particularly to your region. And by working together, the government and the tourism industry can get more tourists to visit you.

The Highlands of Hastings tourist region already has a lot going for it. What you have, you can make go further. And a lot of what you don't have, you can get. For example, you have some of the most important things, excellent lakes and streams. Good fishing and hunting. Good marinas, but you could use more. Interesting pioneer historical sights and modern attractions. The new Quinte-Hastings hiking trail. Excellent snowmobiling. For the most part, good accommodation, trailer parks, campsites, food service, and prices - but you should keep aiming for excellence. Relatively inexpensive land for tourism development. Good information centres, but you could use more. Of course, most important of all in attracting and holding tourists in your region is your friendly, helpful residents.

In fact, in Madoc and Marmora in Trenton and Tweed, in Belleville and Stirling, in all your communities, you have the greatest asset you can offer today - a reliable assurance of a lasting and favorable business and tourism climate.

This climate is man made and is the product of your local businessmen, workers, government officials, and the friendly people of your communities. When you have this community attitude, you can operate in peace, harmony, and prosperity.

Here, in the Highlands of Hastings you have that magic ingredient.

Here, you act on the fact that economic growth begins with the individual. You contribute to making your cities, villages, and countryside as attractive as possible to lure industry and tourism.

Here, you significantly contribute to the working partnership between government and private industry - a vital partnership that determines purposeful economic and social growth. I'm talking about creating more jobs, higher incomes, better living standards, and a higher quality of life.

So on behalf of Ontario's Minister of Industry and Tourism, The Honourable John White, I'm here this evening to assure you of the provincial government's continuing cooperation.

To be colloquial, we "dig" important cash crops, too!

In fact, the merger of the departments of trade and development and tourism and information will enable all of us to introduce new, exciting, and profitable programs for Ontario's tourism industry.

Economic and social trends reveal that tourism will continue to be a growth sector in our economy.

Though there's a limit to what the average person will spend on food, apparel, or housing, there's no such consumption ceiling on travel and the associated recreation pleasures.

So to repeat what I said earlier: Tourism could offer Ontario - and particularly the Highlands of Hastings - more returns faster than any other industry.

The Growth rate of tourism is limited only by the extent of the efforts we're all prepared to put into its development and promotion. And we're prepared to do our share.

MADOC 4-H POTATO CLUB

The second meeting of the Madoc 4-H Potato Club was held on Tuesday, May 16th, at 8 o'clock at Foxboro Co-operative.

Mr. Larry Bertrand was the main speaker, who showed and described the different minerals in the fertilizer and what portion of each is in one bag. He then demonstrated how it is weighed and how it is set for different percentages of minerals.

The meeting was held in the store room, where all the fertilizer is kept and the members looked at all the different percentages of minerals in each bag.

Mr. Wayne Martin then distributed pamphlets to the members, who discussed the topics in them and also handed out soil sample boxes and bags to take samples of soil to be sent to Guelph.

It was decided that the next meeting be held at the Queensboro school on June 11th at 8 o'clock.

Special thanks goes to the following people for getting the members to the meeting or time: Mr. Fred Stein, Mr. Dor Wammanaker, Mr. Allen Sager the leader, and Mr. Bill Tweedy.

Is the larger size always cheaper?
How to Buy Smart
Usually it is, but not always.
The smaller size may be an "special" or "super" market simply because it is more cheaply from the supplier and is passing on the savings.
Popularity of a package size is often a factor. For example, few people buy 25 pound bags of sugar, thus this package size sells more slowly or not at all. It takes up a lot of space on the shelf too - which is also a factor.
The store owner is happy to take a smaller profit on fast-moving items.
In some cases, the actual production and marketing cost per pound of the larger, slower selling package may be more than for the fast-selling, smaller package. Accordingly, some times it pays to buy the smaller size.
This is a good reason why wise shoppers do check with "Check-a-Unit" pricing. Be sure YOU use it. If you do not understand UNIT PRICING, ask me.

Cordova Bear Believed Shot

The rampaging bear, which has been frightening families in the Cordova area during the past couple of weeks may have met his Waterloo.

Early last Tuesday morning, a bear answering the description of the famed Cordova animal was shot and killed on the farm of Milton Robinson, Lot 14, Concession 3, in Madoc Township.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Roy Gordon returned home from visiting her sisters in several parts of N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Forestell, Brent and Brian of Guilford, Ontario spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Forestell.

Mrs. Wesley Vollick of Belleville is a patient in the Kingston General Hospital.

Mrs. Harry Bird of Madoc spent last week at the home of her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prentice, Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holland and boys, Madoc, spent last weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boyle at Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prentice in Ottawa. While in Ottawa they attended the Marathon Volleyball game at Colonel By Secondary School, in which Gary and Bob Prentice participated. It lasted 96 hours, with only two shifts of twelve students each.

Miss Winona Palmer of Peterborough, Miss Marion Lampman of Toronto, Miss Esther Walmsley of London and Mr. Don Ambler of Hamilton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Don McKinnon and family.

Milton told the Review that at about four o'clock that morning, awakened by the loud fuss his hound was making, he noticed there was a disturbance among his cattle. Upon investigating with flashlight and rifle in hand, he found the large bear wandering just behind the barn. He said his appearance did not frighten the bear away.

He shot the menacing animal with his 203-rifle. Although this was the first sighting of the bear, Milton said he thinks it may have been around for a couple of days because he noticed that his sheep seemed to be afraid to leave their pens for the two days preceding the shooting. Since then, the sheep have returned to their normal behaviour.

He thought perhaps the bear had been after his young calves, which were outside with the cows at the time.

Milton estimated the bear to weigh 600 pounds - the same weight the Cordova bear was believed to be.

The bear which had been visiting families in Cordova had ripped two good-sized holes right through the side of the home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hamilton, ripped a piece of plastic off the kitchen window of the home of Mrs. Harold Nobes, and did considerable damage to a small cabin near Mrs. Nobes' home.

The Robinson farm is not far from Cordova, across country, and there is a good possibility that this is the same animal which has been doing damage to homes in that area.

This view of the new waste disposal site, opened in Madoc Township last Thursday, clearly shows how the trench system operates. All refuse is dumped into the trench and once a week it is covered over with fill. There will be positively no burning at the site. The site is located on the West half of Lot 2, Concession 9, south of Highway No. 7, just east of the Village.

PUPILS PAY TRIBUTE TO RETIRING PRINCIPAL

On Friday, May 19th, 1972 the pupils of Madoc Township School marked the retirement of their Principal, Mrs. Florence McCoy, in a special tree planting ceremony. The day also marked the closing of a special "Canada Week" in which the senior pupils have undertaken a special series of studies about our country.

To mark this special day each grade in the school planted a maple tree on the school property. Because the maple leaf design is used on the Canadian flag it seemed fitting to mark Canada week by planting maple trees in honour of our country. The pupils also hope these trees will stand as a living memorial to Mrs. McCoy in future years.

The trees planted by the pupils were obtained from the Ketcheson farm using a front end loader. Allen and Grant Ketcheson, with the help of Lawrence Donly and Wendell Sedgwick, moved the trees to the school property. Boys from the senior grades dug holes in preparation for planting.

After dinner, pupils and teachers gathered around the first tree to be planted. Mr. Sedgwick paid a brief tribute to Mrs. McCoy and expressed the hope that in future years the pupils would have a continuing interest in the school through watching the growth of the trees which each one helped to plant.

The students then separated into grades. Under the guidance of their teacher the pupils of each grade planted their own tree.

Township residents who have children attending the township school might be interested to have their children point out the particular tree which they helped to plant.

C.H.M.C.A. DIRECTORS MEET

A meeting of the Directors of the Centre Hastings Medical Clinic Association was held in the Madoc Village Council Chambers on Monday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Robert Kirkwood called the meeting to order and announced that the amount of pledges received to date for the Medical Centre total $11,030.00.

Present were Jim Watson,

Rev. D. Heard, Dr. C. C. Derry, Mrs. Vera Hill, Mrs. Gail Blakely, as well as Mr. Joe Rooney, representing the Kiwanis Club, and Mr. Tom Sandford, representing the Madoc Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Townships were represented by Reeve Ken Smith and Councillor Joseph Kehoe, while Mr. George Wood attended on behalf of Huntingdon Township. (Official representatives of these councils will be appointed at their next regular meetings.)

Rev. Douglas Heard read a letter he had received from an Associate where a community had built a medical centre. Some of the difficulties encountered were included. From a discussion on this, a decision was made to have an architect design the medical centre building if one is to be built in Madoc.

On motion of Jim Watson, seconded by Dr. Clifford Derry, it was agreed that the Association should be governed by a Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer, with the following four committees set up: Legal, Financial, Property (building and land) and Personnel and Operating.

Tom Sandford seconded the motion of Ken Smith that White & White be appointed to act as legal advisors for the C.H.M.C.A. Rev. Heard and Rundle Patrik were appointed by the committee to contact White & White on behalf of the Association.

Vera Hill made a motion, seconded by Gail Blakely, that the Madoc Branch of the Toronto-Dominion Bank be approached to act as financial advisors for the C.H.M.C.A. Tom Sandford and Joe Rooney were appointed to contact the Bank.

Gail Blakely and Vera Hill were nominated to act as the Secretarial Committee.

It was decided that letters would be written to Madoc Township, Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Townships, Tudor and Cashel Townships, Huntingdon Township and the Madoc Senior Citizens Club to have their official representative attend the next meeting, which will be held on Monday, June 12th, at 8:00 p.m. in the Village Council Chambers.

On motion of Gail Blakely, the meeting adjourned.

ALEATHA WOODS HONOURED AT TESTIMONIAL EVENING

A crowd of between 250 and 300 well-wishers assembled at Madoc Public School on Saturday evening, May 27th for a testimonial evening in honour of Mrs. Aleatha Woods.

The first hour of the evening consisted of informal visiting and renewing old acquaintances. Upon arrival, Mrs. Woods was presented with a corsage.

At nine o'clock, Rev. Browning who acted as Chairman brought the gathering to order for the singing of "O Canada".

He welcomed everyone to the school. Mr. Browning called attention to the decoration in the gym, which were footprints outlined, each bearing a year from 1926 to 1972, as follows: 1926-29, White Lake; 1929-30, Hart's; 1930-36, Madoc Public; 1940-51, Hart's; 1951-61, Rigg's; 1961-65, Madoc Township Public; 1965-67, White Lake; 1968-72, Madoc Public. Mr. Browning pointed out that Aleatha had taught through 6 decades with three years off for a honeymoon. He said he classes people into three categories: "jaw bones", "wish bones" and "back bones". The "jaw bones" talk about doing the job but never do it. The "wish bones" wish that somebody else would do the work for them. The "back bones" roll up their sleeves and get the job done. He said that Mrs. Woods belonged to the "back bone" group and expected this from her students.

The choir of grade 7 pupils under the direction of Mr. Wm. Aylsworth favoured with musical selections.

Rev. E. Hawkes of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church spoke on the attributes of a teacher, complimenting Mrs. Woods for her "staying power" for teaching for forty-two and half years.

Reeve T. C. Barton of Madoc Village brought greetings and good wishes on behalf of the village. He jokingly said that Mrs. Woods did a poor job on one pupil (his wife Mary Smith).

Stanley Franks former member and chairman of Madoc Township School Board thanked Mrs. Woods on behalf of the citizens of Madoc Township for all her faithful years of service in that community where she had done most of her teaching.

Mrs. Woods' Last Class composed readings and sang songs which were popular in each of the six decades in which Mrs. Woods taught. This group was under the direction of John Murphy.

John Murphy, Principal spoke briefly on the programme and philosophy of Madoc Public School. He mentioned how all pupils are different and how there are also differences in (Continued on Page 8)

Over 250 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon called at their home in Queensboro on Sunday, April 30th, to offer them congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their Golden wedding anniversary.

Their family or twelve children were all present, except one son, who is overseas. Their children are: Roy, Carl, Jim, Raymond, Melvin, all of Queensboro, Allan of Port Dover, Gerald of Madoc, Cecil of Germany, Kenneth of Trenton, and Margaret (Mrs. Dave Foster) of "Twined" Doris (Mrs. Basil Moore) of Belleville, and Laraine (Mrs. Devolin) of Oshawa. They also have 33 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon were presented with a hosiery and a corsage, a gift of their only great grandson, Bradley, followed by a beautiful vase of red roses from their grandson, Don, did golden. They also received a lovely basket of flowers from the grandchildren.

A three-tiered anniversary cake had been decorated by their daughter-in-law, Hazel Gordon, to mark the occasion.

The happy couple were presented with two velvet chairs from the family and a number of other gifts from their friends and relatives. Telegrams were received from Lee Grilly, M.P., an associate leader of the Opposition, Mr. Robert Stanford and the Hon.able William Davis. A plaque from the Prince Master of Ontario Hon. William Davis and the Governor in Council was presented by George W. Brown, M.P.

Mr. Gordon was presented with a commemorative plaque from the Madoc Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Their children greeted the guests at the door. Pouring tea during the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Blanche McMurray, Mrs. Ella Thompson, Mrs. Jessie Holmes, Mrs. Hilda De-Clair, Mrs. Florence Glover and Miss Roberta Sager, all neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. Lunch was served to the guests by the grandchildren.

A number of distinguished members of Grand Black Chapter were present, including Grand Master of G.B.P. Ontario East from Ottawa, and Past G.M. of G.B.P. Ontario East, from Smith Falls.

Guests were present from Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Peterborough, Smith Falls, Belleville and Lindsay.

Township Of Tudor and Cashel Council Minutes

The Tudor & Cashel Council met on Friday, May 5th, 1972, with all members present.

Davidson Burkitt that the minutes of the previous meeting be adopted as read.

Burkitt - Brintnell that the following accounts be paid: Road Voucher No. 4, $3,101.10; C. T. Hollins, $27.73; E. Baker, sundries, $38.10; Postage, $1.00; Telephone, $5.61; Misc., $3.14.

Peace Park Annual Appeal

The second annual appeal for funds for the maintenance and development of the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park will take place the first two weeks in June. There are no administrative costs and every penny collected goes for the improvement of the park.

The park is open from June 1 to October 1 each year and is closed at sundown. There are no admission fees or "pay entrance" grants and the park is maintained by donations from the public. It is open to all in accordance with the principle that "Peace is for everyone."

Last year six hundred and sixty dollars was received in the annual appeal.

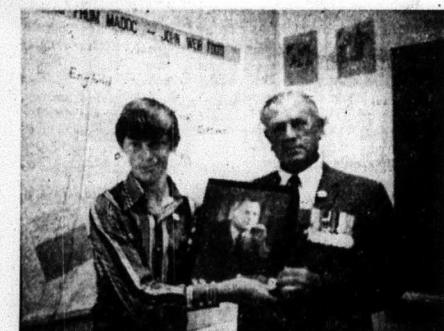

"We are hopeful that a larger amount will be raised this year," said Roy Cadwall, Chairman, "in order to complete the Mother's Shrine on behalf of all mothers who lost sons in previous wars." All donations are income tax deductible and the names of all those who donate are enrolled in the Peace Pagoda Shrine in the park.

Contributions can be sent direct to the park or to the Peace Pagoda Shrine, c/o Madoc Branch of the Toronto Dominion Bank, Madoc, Harry McLean is the Treasurer.

Safety Rally To Be Held Here

On Tuesday, June 6th, residents of Hastings County will be holding a Safety Rally at the Madoc Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. The rally will be held from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. and will feature a variety of safety demonstrations and a quiz. The rally is being held to raise awareness of safety issues in the home and on the road. The Madoc Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion is the host for the event. The rally is free of charge and all are welcome to attend. For more information, contact the Madoc Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

SENIOR CITIZENS REPORT

by Mary Ann Holmes

The regular meeting of the Madoc and District Senior Citizens Club was held on Wednesday, May 24th in the United Church Basement.

The early part of the afternoon was spent playing cards and croquet.

Mrs. Broadworth, President, then called the meeting to order and a business period followed. This portion of the meeting was opened with the reading of two poems. Roll call, "Things our Grandmothers did not have" was answered by forty-seven members. There were two visitors present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. John A. Satisfactory Treasurer's report was given by Mr. John A.

A note was read from Mr. and Mrs. Warbrick, thanking the Club for kindnesses shown to them during Mr. Warbrick's illness. The members were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Warbrick back with them after Mr. Warbrick's long illness.

BIRTH

VANDEN ANKER - Mr. and Mrs. Ted Vanden Anker, (nee Margaret Forestell) wish to announce the birth of their son, Martin Richard at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough on May 24th, 1972.

Using picture slides and a remarkable memory for details, Mr. Forestell reviewed his trip to the mid western state of the U.S.A. in March, 1971.

This trip, part by plane and part by bus, was sponsored by the United Co-Operatives of Ontario and arranged by Farm director Clare Burt, Brampton. Stops were made in Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas City and the farmers viewed the beef industry from the beginning - a baby calf - to the finished product as found in the meat counter. All sizes of operations were shown from a small farm to a huge feed lot where there were 16 miles of mangers to fill.

Mr. Forestell was introduced by Alex McCurdy and thanked by Charles Fargay.

Returning to Madoc to address a curriculum meeting of teachers last week, the Assistant Deputy Minister of Education, Mr. George Waldrum, a former school inspector of this area, at right, found a moment to chat with his former secretary, Mrs. Sue Cotton, and the gentleman she is now working for, Mr. Frank Tate, Area Superintendent.

Play It Again The Old Way, Sam

(By BILL SMILEY)

Do you, occasionally, have the feeling that you'd like to stand up, preferably in some public place, and scream, "Stop the world! I wanna get off!"?

This urge, which is becoming a compulsion, seems to be hitting me more often lately. Perhaps it's the first, faint symptom of senility.

Twenty years ago, when our kids were babies and I was leading the hectic, 72-hour a week life of a weekly editor, I accomplished a great deal.

I still found time to play the odd game of poker (and odd is the word), catch opening day of the trout season, get in a few rounds of golf a week, see the latest movie, play with the kids and tell them bedtime stories, and fight with my wife.

Today, the kids are grown up and gone, and my weekly chores have been pared to a reasonable number of hours.

Yet I find myself so beleaguered that I haven't played poker for five years, haven't wet a line or sliced a drive this spring, haven't seen a movie for a year and a half, and scarcely have time to fight with my wife.

Don't say it. "He's getting old." This is pure malice. I can still out-dance, and out-drink most twenty-year-olds. I was going to add out-fight. But let's put it this way: I can still outrun any coward my age, or up to ten years younger.

I can still swim a hundred yards in half an hour; I can walk a block in twenty minutes with time out for catching my breath. I can hit a golf ball 200 yards with a mere 60-mile tailwind.

Don't say it. "He's caught up in a social whirl." That's pure imagination. The only social whirl around here is trying to decide whether we should go over and visit Grandad, or ask him to come and visit us.

No, it's something else. What, in the world of all that is ridiculous, is happening, in the prime of my life, when I should be coasting a little after years of uphill pedalling?

It's the rotten world, that's what it is. The damned thing is flying around faster and faster on its axis, whatever the scientists may say.

The days are getting shorter and shorter, the years are flipping by like somebody shuffling cards, and everybody is wishing the weekend would come or saying, "Thank God, it's Friday."

And all God's children seem to know it. The kids are into drugs and sex as though they'd just been invented and might be out of style tomorrow.

The trout streams are polluted. It's easier to flop and watch an old movie on television, with forty-six commercials, than to venture into the dark theatre and become involved.

I play an anemic and, safe game of bridge instead of an erratic and brilliant game of poker. The golf courses, are so crowded it takes all day to play a round.

And even playing around is no fun anymore. Everybody, instead of viewing it with the delighted horror of a generation ago, has an instant analysis of the whole affair, in pseudo-psychological terms.

It used to be fun to fight with my furnace, man, against beast. Often it won, but at least I had the satisfaction of giving it a few good belts with the coal shovel. Try that with your friendly oil dealer and you'll wind up with a law-suit.

Everybody is sick to death of taxes, always going up, however cleverly disguised; of politicians, who seem more concerned with scoring a point, for or against, than in leading; of the lousy postal service; of the growing army of slobs who diddle the rest of us and live on unemployment insurance or welfare.

The majority of Canadians are sick to death of those darlings of the self-styled intellectual leaders: anti-Americanism; lack of a "true Canadian culture", whatever that is; bilingualism, a perfect example of the real being conged by the ideal.

However, don't feel that I'm giving up. The only people who seem to get ahead these days are those who dig in their heels: the garbage collectors, posties and cops, who are now making a decent (and in the opinion of many, an indecent) wage; the farmer who refuses to sell out to a corporation because he believes in what he's doing; the odd teacher who refuses to be shut up by a smothering administration.

Perhaps if we dug in our heels a bit, the world would not be going to hell in a wheelbarrow. Or going around so fast. I'm willing. How about you?

Maybe too many of us feel that we're a voice in the wilderness. Not so. That's where Christ gave the gears to the devil. And see what happened.

Maybe I sound disgruntled. I'm not. I'm as grunted as they come. And one of the main reasons is that I've just learned that my favourite uncle, at the age of 80, is getting married to a broth of a girl of 72. As Jewish writers have it, "I should live so long!"

MARRIAGE

GUTZMAN - HOLLISTER

On Saturday, May 27th, 1972, at two o'clock, Elizabeth Hollister of Madoc was united in marriage to Edgar H. Gutzman of Petawawa, Ontario, in a quiet ceremony at St. John's United Church, Tweed, Ontario. Reverend Ian Munro officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Mae Goode, while Mr. G. H. Goode of Picton, was best man.

A reception was held at the Havelock Hotel following the ceremony.

(Edited by Patsy Neal,

"John Weir Foote, V. C. Day" was a special day for the Special Education classes at Centre Hastings Secondary School, Madoc. Major Foote, a native of Madoc, attended public and high school in Madoc. When World War II broke out he was a minister in Port Hope and enlisted as a Padre. He distinguished himself with a decision made at Dieppe to remain with the captured men rather than return with the 4,000 free men to England.

PLAQUE PLANS:

In 1969 the Special Education classes became interested in his heroic story. At that time they wished that residents and tourists in Madoc would know that John Weir Foote was a distinguished native. The class, with permission of their principal, Mr. C. M. Griffith, applied to the Historic Sites Board for a plaque to commemorate him in December 1969. By February 1970 the class was informed that the Historic Sites Board recognized that the contribution that Ontario Victoria Cross Winners made was worthy of plaque commemoration. However, plaques are erected after the death of persons.

PICTURE PLANS:

Since the class was unable to erect the plaque, in 1970, they requested a photo of Mr. Foote that could be placed in the hall of the Centre Hastings Secondary School, from which he had graduated.

Ken Derry, a special education graduate of 1969-70 returned to school two weeks ago to inquire if there were any further plaque developments. At that time, Ken Derry talked inspiringly to a class of boys and told them of the plans of his graduating class to complete the plaque at the opportune time. Ken also inspired the class with John Foote's heroism and they too read the story. Allen Reid was impressed by the contribution of this native and invited him to Centre Hastings Secondary School. With his wife, a former teacher of this school, Major Foote came to the school and Allen Reid received the photo.

STORY FROM READER:

Using the story "John Weir Foote, V.C." by F. C. Biehl which appears in the text "All Said Set", Randy Holmes and Allen Reid interviewed Mr. Foote.

Mr. Foote stated, "I knew I had to stay with the men captured at the Dieppe raid. I never regretted the decision although I didn't like the prison camp diet. I did get a nice figure then - 140 pounds."

Referring to the investiture by King George VI, Mr. Foote said that because of a delay with the ship, he missed the main ceremony, but he was happy because he was able to visit informally with King George VI just as in the warm atmosphere of the classroom interview. When Padre Foote attended public school in Madoc, he was impressed by the story of a Victoria Cross winner, O'Leary, which was in the reader, then, just as special education classes are presently impressed with the John W. Foote story.

WORKING WITH YOUNG PEOPLE:

As a Minister of Reform Institutions, he enjoyed his work with young people. He believed that young people adjust themselves quickly in training school and improve their pattern of living. As well, for ten years before retiring in the fall of 1969, he was Sheriff of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham.

NOVEL - "WOODEN HORSE"

Using the novel "Wooden Horse" by Eric Williams, Patsy Neal, Mary Crawford and Dan Lummis interviewed Mr. Foote concerning particular aspects of prison camp life. Among his remarks were the following:

He had seen the movie "Wooden Horse" and he had been in the first camp with the author, Eric Williams.

"In prison camp as in your everyday life, one has to make a life for oneself. One finds ways of being agreeable. Using seeds from the Red Cross parcels, they planted gardens; using musical instruments they played a band; using library books, they had another form of recreation."

"There were constant escape plans. A security committee continually made plans for escape and nourishing food, such as chocolate bars were saved for escape artists. One camp had so many tunnels underneath that it appeared as if there were hundreds of giant moles at work. Escape plans kept prisoners interested and hopeful."

"One of the hardest parts of prison life was the fact that the prisoners were actually out of the fighting and could not participate. The lack of freedom was humiliating. The Red Cross parcels were an asset but then then the Germans cut down on the rations and if parcels didn't come, food supply was most negligible. However one learned how to use food supplies well." Major Foote referred to war as an abnormal state, a destructive process. He said that there hasn't really been peace in the world completely since before 1914. However the United Nations give an app to talk and not fight.

USING BULLETIN BOARD:

Using the pupil-prepared map on the bulletin board, Major Foote told of returning to Dieppe to mark 25 years since the end of World War II.

He told of the park at Dieppe kept up by the French and their friendliness. Cartier, when he sailed to Canada in the early 1500's, sailed from an area that reminded Mr. Foote of Canada. A Guide told him that on earlier maps of France that particular area was known as Canada. Mr. Foote expressed an interest in doing post-graduate work in history of that area in France to ascertain if Canada's name had originally been derived from this and Cartier's voyage.

So that the class might see the Victoria Cross, Mr. Foote brought his series of medals with him. One medal for the Defence of England was designated by George IV. The Canada Decoration of "Long Service" was jokingly designated as given to men who didn't get caught (killed). One medal was the type that had been presented since the Crusades, which began in 1095.

With the assistance of Ken Derry and teacher Mrs. Aureen Richardson, Mr. Foote viewed the plaque book began in 1969 and expressed interest in this element of local history.

"COMMEMORATIVE STAMPS"

Also among the special education records are letters and replies to and from the Postage Stamp in Ottawa. The pupils had seen an interesting commemorative stamp from 1968 which had a picture of John McCrae, author of Canada's best known poem, "In Flanders Fields". Feeling that John Foote's war contribution was also noteworthy, Debra Armstrong wrote a letter in 1969 making this suggestion. The suggestion was appreciated, but the class was informed that the only living person's picture that appears on a stamp is that of the Queen. Since these classes maintain some interest in stamps, this suggestion may be carried out in a future year.

GRADUATING CLASS OF JUNE 1970

Among the graduates of 1970 who plan a reunion when the plaque time comes are the following young men: Bob Chalk, Tweed; Peter Cousins, Stirling; Danny Izzard, Havelock; Bill Mullet, Roslin; Ralph Mumby, Thomasburg; Jim Moore, Tweed; Ken Derry, Marmora; Jim Bassett, Castleton; Richard Vilneff, Marmora, and Brian Rivers, Tweed.

Major Foote and his wife were welcomed by Patsy Neal and Allen Reid and were presented with a boutonniere and a corsage, a product of their horticulture class. The guests were thanked by Randy Holmes.

At the close, Mr. Foote stated that when he had received the invitation to come he felt that pupils hadn't changed in 60 years. If a guest were invited in the, the pupils didn't have to work. Since coming to C.H.S.S. and seeing the professional way that students had conducted the interview using English texts with which they were familiar and with a record such as that attained by videotaping, Major Foote had changed his mind. "I also want to comment on the warmth and friendliness that pervades the atmosphere here."

CARD OF THANKS

A sincere "Thank You" is expressed to all the kindly folk who organized and prepared the testimonial evening and reception at Madoc Public School. It was an evening I shall never forget. The wonderful gifts will always remind me of you.

For all the staff, the Home and School Association, pupils, parents and friends I wish the old Irish blessing:
May the road rise to meet you.
May the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face, the rains fall soft upon your fields, and until we meet again, may God hold you in the palm of His hand.
Aleatha Woods

We would like to express our thanks to our many friends, neighbours and relatives for calling on us and for the lovely gifts we received on the occasion of our 50th Wedding Anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon 22-1p

The family of the late William Basil Howe would like to express their thanks and appreciation to their many friends and neighbours for their sympathy and kindness during their recent bereavement.
Special thanks to the Mac-Kenzie Funeral Home, Rev. J.
H. Thompson, and the nurses at Belcrest Nursing Home and the Memorial Hospital at Trenton. 22-1p

Mrs. Edith Davidson, who now resides at Deloro Nursing Home, wishes to thank everyone who sent cards and treats and a special thanks to L.O.B.A. for flowers and to Reverend Heard for his visits, while a patient in Belleville General Hospital. 22-1

IN MEMORIAM

FORESTELL — In loving memory of our Dear Mother, Grandmother, Bessie who passed away May 22, 1968.
God knew that she was suffering.
That the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed her weary eye lids.
And whispered, "Please be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God.
By the valley of rest so fair.
Some day we know not when
We will meet our loved one there.
Sadly missed, forever remembered by son Gerald, daughter-in-law, Shirley, grandchildren, Paul, Mary, Roseanne,
Betty and Kevin Lees, Chalmers,
Trenton, Ontario.

BAUMHOOR — In memory of our dear son, Andrew, who died on May 30th, 1969.
We do not forget and never intend.
We think of him with to the end.
So more to see his smiling face
Or to hear him say hello.
Happily and smiling, always content.
Loved and respected wherever he went.
Always thoughtful, willing and kind.
These are the memories to left behind.
Always missed by his Father and Mother, sister and brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

MCCOY — In loving memory of my husband, Clarence

Infrared thermography is used by Ontario Hydro to inspect for weaknesses in transmission equipment.

INFRARED, FRIENDLY SPY

A military secret of two world wars is used by Ontario Hydro to spot weaknesses in its transmission systems.

Thermography—detection of objects by reading their heat with infrared sensors—wasn't released for non-military use until the 1950's. In wartime, infrared detectors located night-flying enemy planes and pinpointed troops on the ground. Civilian and industrial applications have grown to include medical diagnosis, searches for people lost at sea, early detection of forest fires, and industrial process supervision.

Hydro's technicians use the detector to locate faults in lines and switches carrying electric current.
The infrared scanner creates an image, not from the visible part of the spectrum, but from heat radiation.
A loose or corroded electrical connection becomes a hot spot which appears white on the scanner's television monitor, while warm areas are gray and cold areas black.

Preventive maintenance using infrared detection equipment allows faulty parts to be found and replaced before serious trouble develops.

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(By BEV. BROWNING)

Scientists have given us many marvelous inventions such as automobiles, airplanes and rockets, television and radio and even the electric toothbrush. Science has made wondrous advances in conquering dreaded diseases such as diphtheria and small pox. Science has also taken man to the moon and back. This field of study has even been able to cross a potato with a sponge (it tastes horrible, but sure sops up a lot of gravy). With all this technical knowledge there is one thing that puzzles me. Why haven't scientists discovered a way to make black flies attack mosquitoes and vice-versa? That to me would be the scientific discovery of the century.

People sure like to give advice. Now take my mother-in-law. (I wish somebody would) she likes to give advice on planting flowers. Just because she has beautiful flowers growing around her place is no reason to give an old farmer like myself advice on how to plant flowers. (Well, if you call seven years of farming an old farmer). You just wait old, flower-growing mother-in-law, my flowers will grow if I have to take a whip to them (the old goes with the flower-growing. I'm too young to pass out of this world).

I'll have to excuse her though. She didn't know I had some farming blood in me. I lived on the farm when milking was done by hand, balers and combines were just in the experimental stage and horses outnumbered tractors. In a way, they were the good old days! Lots of fresh air, amongst other things. Although small in frame, I could milk cows with the best of them and pitch hay with the worst of them.

Now that I think back, I was "conned" into milking by my father. He said my wrists were too small to give me any strength for milking. But I showed him. I proved I could do it. I also showed my older brother. Boy did I show him. I had to get up every morning at five o'clock while he slept in until eight o'clock. (That's the last time I showed him anything).

But in all fairness to my older brother, I must admit he had to do all the heavy work. He did all the heavy slugging but he was no perfectionist at building a load of hay. I can remember one load of hay in particular that fell off the wagon three times before it got to the barn. The third time was within a hundred feet from the barn. I was after that third time that my father said to us — "there is the barn — inside the barn is a mow — when that hay is in the mow come and get me. I'll be in the house."

So much for the joys of farming. As many farmers could tell you, a lot of amusing incidents happen during the work day.

Well this story now means I have two people out to get even — one my mother-in-law and the other my older brother. Even though my brother outweighs me by a hundred pounds I'm more afraid of my mother-in-law. I'll probably be planted in a flower bed by this weekend.

Mrs. Aleatha Woods is retiring come the end of June. Starting at White Lake in 1926, Mrs. Woods has taught at Hart's, Riggs' Madoc Township and Madoc Public Schools. Except for a three year honeymoon, Mrs. Woods has taught for 43 years! We wish Aleatha many relaxing and healthful years of retirement.

This Thursday night the Madoc Ladies' Softball team will test their skills and bating eye when they will play an exhibition game against the Tannery Girls. Game time is 8:15 at the Madoc Ballfield. So get out there and cheer for your favourite team.

Lost and Found Department — Sunday I met a guy searching for a ball meeting. Where, he did not know. So, if you see a guy driving around town in desperation and you know where that meeting is, will you please let him know. I don't think his wife has seen him since Sunday morning.

Wished I'd Said That Department: people may be classified as "Wishbones", "Jawbones" or "Backbones". Wishbones — wish somebody would do the job that they are supposed to do. Jawbones — talk about doing the job but never get around to doing it. Backbones — roll up their sleeves and get the job done. Where do you classify yourself?

Nothing humorous happened this week. Since Bill Willemsen and family moved away it has been very quiet and my source of humorous incidents moved away with them.

Even little David from across the street and around the corner didn't have any gems of advice this week. So nothing is new in the world of wit and wisdom.

I expect to have another month to feed before the end of the week. I'm buying Sherri-Ann a canary for her birthday which was a couple of weeks ago. She just loves birds, and I figure by buying her a bird I'll save at least five trips to the Beamish Store every week just to see the birds. I'm also purchasing a new barbecue. What's the connection? Well, if bird gets in the habit of singing at five o'clock in the morning I'm going to introduce it to the barbecue.

I've been doing a lot of introducing lately. I've introduced my wife to the shovel, hoe and lawnmower. There are some introductions that don't hurt in the least. (Just a few belated Mother's Day presents. I'm just full of little gifts like that. They can't miss in making the heart grow fonder).

I wonder if that guy tried the ball field. That's a good place to hold a ball meeting.

As it says, "Mostly about something but not necessarily."

"HOT STUFF: SUNSHINE and E.S.P."

Canada's only school for psychic and mind development officially opens May 29th near Madoc, Ontario. The "Psi Centre Madoc" will offer two-week immersion courses in "Personality and Psychic Development" throughout the summer, in both English and French.

The school is located on highway No. 7, about half-way between Ottawa and Toronto, in the Land O' Lakes tourist region. The "retreat" itself sits back from the highway next to a softly flowing river and is surrounded by woods and hills — an ideal spot for mind development and meditation on the wonders of Canada's natural beauty.

"Psi Centre Madoc" also offers students a wide range of recreational opportunities, such as swimming, hiking, canoeing and for more sedentary leisure moments there's the potter's wheel, piano and campfire singing.

The school is run by the Bartonian Metaphysical Society a federally chartered, non-profit charitable organization which believes individual development should be a balance between the physical and spiritual aspects of man; that everyone has the potential to develop an extra-sense of perception and thereby bringing more meaning and quality into the life of the individual. The Madoc retreat is "a dream come true" in this sense.

But just what can one expect to find there? A qualified staff with up to ten years' experience in teaching metaphysics, group encounter sessions and audio-visual programs are the basis. Dream analysis and Meditation. Personal interviews. Meals and accommodation are included. "Psi Centre Madoc" is truly a unique experience, unlike any other school or retreat. Among the topics in the courses and discussions are ghosts and personality survival after death, UFOs, the human aura, Atlantis, cybernetics, astral projection and the concept values of religion and philosophy. Man in his totality.

Leisure moments are designed to stimulate meaningful discussion and development of interpersonal relationships, with arts and crafts, music and singing.

First contact with the centre may come at the wayside information booth, where visitors are welcome to browse among the literature and "Psi souvenirs", and perhaps enjoy a relaxing cup of "dandelion coffee". And for those who stay to take the "development course" and want more, "Psi Centre Madoc" offers more advanced courses in "Esoteric Philosophy", "Applied Metaphysics" and teacher's training as well as postgraduate studies.

Further information and registration forms are available by writing to "Canadian Retreat", Box 4022, Stn. E., Ottawa, Ontario.

$150,000 Campaign To Keep Ont. Beautiful

Environment Minister James Auld last week announced a $150,000 campaign against litter.

Before the summer is out, Mr. Auld said, Environment Ontario hopes "to make every citizen of Ontario conscious of the consequences of his carelessness with trash."

Advertising in newspapers, on radio and television, on posters and on billboards will introduce a remarkable pollution control device, the trashcan, he told the House in a statement.

"Before we're through, we expect to hear a real public outcry for more trash receptacles in our parks, on our streets and along our beaches," Mr. Auld said. "And we'll be asking municipalities and civic groups to provide these receptacles."

He announced that a Task Force on Litter, composed of representatives from government, from municipalities, from industry and from citizen groups, holds its first meeting Thursday to plan a united attack on the problem. "This time, we're all pulling together to fire a real broadside," he said.

ELDORADO

Mrs. L. Stickwood was hostess for Unit 2 for the May meeting. There were 16 members and 1 visitor present. Mrs. R. Pigen as leader, welcomed all.

Mrs. H. Brintnell had a very impressive Worship Service, using as her theme "Salt of the Earth Christians". If we do not tell others about God we are like food without salt. Scripture verses were used to illustrate this, Matthew 5, verse 13, James 3, verse 6 and 1st Peter 3, verse 15.

Mrs. Hilda McGowan was in charge of the Programme, and gave a Book Review of "Salute to Sid". This was the life of Sid Gilchrist, an African Missionary. She made it most interesting.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAMES NEIL BENNY

Mrs. Rose Benny died in Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, May 24, 1972 in her 90th year. She was a resident of Hastings Manor and had resided at Crookston and Marmora previously.

Born in England, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Seely, she was the last of her family, having been predeceased by a sister and four brothers. She was also predeceased by her husbands, James Hammond and James Neil Benny.

Mrs. Benny is survived by a son, James Hammond of Smith Falls and by three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Pentecostal Church.

The funeral was held on Friday, May 26th with service conducted in the MacKenzie Funeral Home at 10:30 a.m. Rev. D. McEwen officiated.

Interment took place in Marmora Cemetery.

Bearers were: Elvin Holland, Elmer Wood, John W. Wickens, Ray Everingham, Kenneth Holland and William French.

BANNOCKBURN

The "Revelations Quartette", Napanee were welcomed and very much enjoyed at the Tabernacle on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lavender, and Mrs. L. Lummiss, Marmora called on Mrs. Donly one day last week, while enroute from attending the funeral at Glamis, of the late Mrs. Emma Ginter.

Mrs. Pollard was a guest of relatives on Saturday, while Mrs. Nicol and Mr. and Mrs. Getty, also of Belleville motored to Weslemkoon Lake, calling on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ball ministered in Tweed on Sunday. Friends were shocked on Sunday to hear of the sudden passing of Mr. Kenneth Greatrex at Kirkland Lake.

Sincere congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sandford, who celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sandford and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Sandford attended the Woodman and Wiley wedding at Oshawa, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray White and Brenda, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. David Howe at Lindsay.

During the week of May 19th to May 26th, 1972, officers of the Madoc Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police investigated nine motor vehicle accidents, eight of property damage and one of personal injury with seven persons taken to the hospital.

There were 36 charges laid under the highway traffic act. There were six requests for assistance, with five reports of thefts and nine reports of breaking and entering. There were seven disturbances and 42 other general occurrences.

In criminal court, Madoc Ontario Judge T. Y. Willis registered 20 convictions.

What should we do when driving along a rural road at night? It is suddenly come upon you a cattle or horse on a road. It is of course, but what else? You should also dim your headlights and sound your horn. Bright lights will often blind animals and cause them to freeze in one spot.

When you have to get some where quickly, turn up the headlights and enter your car. It may be to make up for the time behind the wheel. You could be the best.

DISTRICT W.I. MEETING HELD

The 64th annual meeting of Hastings North District Women's Institutes was held on May 18th in Carlow United Church, Boulter.

Mrs. Lila Loney and Mrs. Marion Lavy, Boulter, welcomed the women as they arrived and Mrs. Barton Haggerty led a sing-song with Mrs. Lindsay Sills at piano during registration, which was in charge of Mrs. R. McWhirter and Mrs. M. Obery.

One hundred and twenty-six members were in attendance and the theme was "Cherish the Past - On to Greater Achievements".

District President, Mrs. Glen Barker was in charge and opened with the Institute Ode and Collect.

Mrs. Parkhurst of Carlow welcomed the group and Mrs. Delbert Carman replied.

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Russell Sills of Ivanhoe gave a full financial report and read the 1971 minutes. Correspondence included greetings from Mrs. Neblitt, Provincial President. She mentioned the need to study new hand book for changes especially the new names of the convenorships. Regrets were read from Mrs. Macklin, Trent Valley Area President, as she was unable to attend. Mrs. W. J. Barlow, Springbrook, gave the auditor's report.

Mrs. Clifford Barber, Belleville, Provincial Board Director, ratified the appointment of fourteen district directors. She also gave the highlights of the Spring Board meeting and brought greetings from the Board of Directors at the Provincial level and announced the Area Convention, which is being held in Peterboro in October.

Mrs. Russell Sills gave an account of her recent attendance at the Guelph Officers' Conference.

Convenor Reports were given and adopted. Mrs. Dan Cooke of Ivanhoe, P.R.O. convenor, had a collection of pictures, badges and leaflets pertaining to provincial, national and A.C.W.W. affairs.

Mrs. Francis Tobin conducted the Pennies for Friendship ceremony and explained how the pennies give assistance in many areas. Each branch brought forth their pennies as the branch name was called.

The morning session closed with the Institute Grace.

The Carlow Branch served a bountiful meal in their community centre, which was decorated with blue and gold streamers and Institute crests.

The meeting resumed at 1:30 and two minutes on the theme was given by each branch's Resolutions Convenor.

Cooper-Remington Branch gave a very impressive memorial service.

Mrs. Glen Barker introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Stanley Bride of Fordwick, Ontario, who is U.N. and International Exchange Secretary of F.W.I.C. She gave a vivid description of the plans for the three new convenorships and suggested a number of ideas.

The collection was in charge of Detlor-L'Amable.

District Curator, Mrs. Clayton Burkhitt, reported 13 Tweedsmuir Histories in the district and spoke on the additional material added during the year and material she would still like to obtain. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. McDonald of Paudash who presented a humorous reading.

Home economist, Mrs. Elaine Struthers, spoke of extensive activity in the club work in this district and other areas under her supervision.

Mrs. Stanley Franks, District Resolutions Convenor, read a resolution compiled by Hart's-Riggs' Branch, requesting the Federal Government ban the advertising of alcoholic beverages.

The contribution of Chancellor Willy Brandt, West Germany and Lester B. Pearson, former Canadian prime minister have made contributions to the Anthology of Peace being sponsored by the Lester B. Pearson Park Committee, at Tweed, Ontario.

The contribution of Chancellor Willy Brandt was made when he was holidaying in Florida following his meeting with President Nixon. At that time because of the Chancellor's interest in peace, he gave an interview to Mr. Cadwell, chairman of the park, which was the only interview granted by Mr. Brandt when he was in Florida. At the interview he presented Mr. Cadwell with an autographed copy of his book, "A Peace Policy for Europe" for the peace park library.

Among contributors to the anthology are the Honourable Robert Stanfield, Peter Newman, Editor of McLean's U. Thant, former Secretary of the United Nations, Dr. Frederick Schlotz, President Emeritus of the American Lutheran Church and C. K. Kaleyev, Chairman, Political Action Committee, World Federalists, Ottawa.

Queen Elizabeth, through her secretary, has given permission to quote from her New Year's message and President Nixon has given permission to use excerpts from his interview on peace with Mr. Stultzberger of the New York Times Evangelist Billy Graham has also given permission to quote from his book "Peace With God" as has Pope Paul in an article "No More War".

What has been most gratifying, said Mr. Cadwell, has been the large response from lay persons as well as world leaders. Negotiations are now being conducted to have the anthology published and hoped that this will be done before the end of the year.

TOURISM: BEST CASH CROP, SAYS M.P.P.

As minister responsible for increasing and improving tourism in Ontario, Mr. White has some ideas on the ministry's already working on to help stimulate employment and income opportunity through the effective development of tourism, trade, and industry.

For openers, all of the branches of our ministry will work hand in hand with tourism at home and abroad.

We plan to add trade promotion and industrial development to the existing network of our tourism offices in Ontario. And the province's enlarged chain of trade offices in key countries around the world will promote tourism as well as trade.

That means more than twice as many offices working for you! In fact, diversification of markets for trade and tourism is one of our ministry's major goals.

We envisage sending our tourism staff and representatives of the tourism industry to investigate and learn from countries that are highly successful with their tourism programs. We're going to find out not only what we're selling and to whom, but what our competition is, and how we can overcome it profitably.

We plan to speak to key travel agents on a state-wide basis in major sectors of the U.S., in Canada, and in other countries.

We'll invite more travel agents and travel writers to Ontario.

We're also interested in helping enterprising small businesses - particularly small tourist businesses - through expanding and innovating our ministry's Ontario Development Corporation Loans program. Again, your region should benefit.

Our minister and our staff will, of course, carry the good word of our new ministry's plans and programs wherever possible - to win friends, influence people, and attract tourists. That's one of the reasons I'm here this evening.

We're also interested in helping create more Ontario package and group deals year round and more balanced holidays for persons who like both the outdoors and the indoors.

In addition, we want our advertising, our promotion, and our information programs to not only win awards, but lure tourists. This can be done by increasingly aiming at specific markets and uniquely selling our province's distinctive differences. And the Highlands of Hastings is made to order for this kind of promotion.

Ontario, including your region, already ranks high as a tourist haven. We're drawing the visitors. And we'll draw even more.

With more and improved research, imagination, and selling techniques, our combined efforts and our combined trade-tourism ministry will mean this: Our visitors will increase our resorts and other accommodation will be filled, we'll have more things for the tourist to spend money on, our economy will be healthier, there'll be more jobs, and our pride as Ontarians will grow even stronger.

But in the last analysis - and in the first analysis, for that matter - our tourism success rests largely with you - as tourism representatives, as an industry, and as individuals.

You must market your available resources skilfully. You must increasingly direct the tourist to travel throughout your entire area.

You must try, wherever possible, to do more tourism business both summer and winter.

Skiing, ice fishing, and snowmobiling, for example, have become big attractions. Many lodges and resort motels which used to close on labor day, now stay open. Tourism in Ontario now spans - and should span - a 12-month period.

And customers are where you find them. One short paragraph in a U.S. article, for example, produced more than 600 requests for the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's Directory listing 80 Ontario farms where vacationers can relax. Link in more strongly to this program.

And foreign businessmen and trade delegations should also be made aware of Ontario's tourist attractions at the outset of their journey or before returning home.

When tourists arrive, you must provide unmatched standards. You must build a reputation of extras without options.

You must do everything in your power to increasingly lure more American and overseas visitors, more Ontarians and Canadians to see Ontario first - hopefully, the Highland of Hastings initially.

We know you can do it. And our government will help you improve your package wherever possible.

A lot's at stake! As professionals in the visitor industry, you well know that Ontario's 1.7 billion dollar tourism industry distributes its benefits throughout the province.

There are, for example, more than 300,000 Ontarians employed directly and indirectly in tourism. We hope more of them will be in your area.

There are thousands of Ontario farms that produce food for tourists. We hope more of them will be in your area, too.

And in one way or another, everybody in Ontario can promote more and better tourism. We hope more of them are in your area.

We're off to a good start. But we can do better - much better.

In 1970, for example, 43 per cent of overseas visitors to Canada, and 59 per cent of American visitors to Canada visited Ontario. So tourism already ranks as one of our province's largest sources of foreign dollars and accounts for a good share of our gross provincial product.

And through the tax revenues they generate, tourist dollars also help pay the cost of services that keep our living standards and quality of life among the highest in the world.

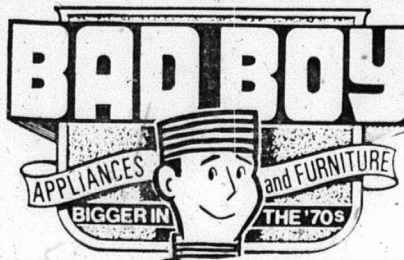

As I said, a lot's at stake. And we have to do better - much better - despite growing challenges.

Today's tourist, for instance, has grown extremely sophisticated. Make sure the Highlands of Hastings provides exactly what he's looking for. Today's tourist demands tasty food, clean rooms, comfortable beds, bath and shower, diverting recreation and entertainment, and quality and courteous service - and all at reasonable prices. Today's tourist also wants to make new discoveries, learn new skills, and bring new memories back home.

If you match the new-found sophistication of today's tourist with old-fashioned enterprise and pride, the Highlands of Hastings will flourish, Ontario will flourish, and so will you.

Let's begin together to cultivate good will, understanding, and cooperative merchandising.

Let's plant our cash crop now!
